40 Cars Pile Up, 32 Hurt

Holiday Death Toll Mounts

Vallejo, Calif. (AP)— Some 40 cars piled up Thursday in a dense fog on a newly opened bridge, injuring 32 persons.

One of the 3 persons seriously injured was a man about 60, reported to have his scalp virtually torn off.

The new $28,000,000 bridge over Carquinez Strait, 35 miles northwest of San Francisco, was dedicated only last Tuesday.

It all started when one car bounced up on a traffic-divider curb, then rested there, partially blocking two lanes.

One motorist, Willard C. Abernethy of San Leandro, said his car was the 3rd to stop—then he hard others "going bang, bang, bang" behind him.

More than 20 of the cars involved were badly smashed.

Tragic Drama

By The Associated Press

Crashes on highways, fires in dwellings, and other accidents took a mounting toll of lives across America Thursday.

Deadly effects of speed and thoughtlessness sharpened the tragic drama of death because the fatalities occurred on the nation's holiday of Thanksgiving.

The toll was counted for the 4-day weekend, starting at 6 p.m. (local time) Wednesday, and continuing until midnight Sunday.

5 Toddlers Die

Five toddlers died when a children's convalescent home burned up in northeast Oklahoma City. The 17 other youngsters and 3 grownups in the place were gotten out safely.

Another fire, in the suburban area of Little Rock, Ark., took the lives of a mother and father and 4 of their children. The one surviving child was taken to a hospital badly burned.

Two boys drowned Thursday when they crashed through pond ice in Chicago.

Traffic was the big killer. Four persons died and two others were injured when two cars met head-on near Crossville, Tenn. The smash-up occurred on a winding road in the Cumberland Mountains.

Students Killed

Three students, homeward bound from the University of Wisconsin for Thanksgiving, were killed near Kenosha, Wis., Thursday when their car collided with a truck at an intersection of state highways. Another student in the car was badly injured.

Two cars collided in an eastern Colorado snowstorm Thursday. The aftermath: Three dead and one injured.

Still, although there was no moratorium on accident fatalities, the Thanksgiving toll gave no signs of exceeding greatly that for a similar non-holiday period at this time of year.

Dying Journey

Melbourne, Australia (UPI) —Thousands of persons saw the metal casing of Sputnik III blaze overhead in its dying journey in orbit around the world.

Edmond W. Murray, an official of Melbourne's moon-watch station, reported that the 2,925-pound Russian satellite was visible from 3 to 5 minutes at an estimated height of 217 miles.

Murray said the Sputnik was due to fall into the earth's atmosphere and burn to a cinder in a matter of days. Some Australian astronomers predicted it might come down about Dec. 4.

Snowfall Crosses Nebraska

Snow and cold moved across the state Thursday with near zero readings reported in the western part of the state.

North Platte had an inch of snow. Grand Island and Imperial reported a little more than a half inch. Norfolk had snow flurries.

Lincoln had received about half an inch of snow.

Light as the snow was in the city, streets became slippery early and travel was hazardous.

Little wind accompanied the snow, the reporting points said. But skies cleared after the flurries and sharp temperature drops were noted.

The state low Thursday was 4 at Chadron. The high was 27 at Lincoln Air Force Base.

Lincoln reported 24 and 18.

Cloudy skies are again in the forecast. More snow is expected in the eastern and southern portions, the Weather Bureau said.

Warmer temperatures are predicted for the west. The east is expected to warm somewhat. Highs in the 20s are forecast.

The Weather

Manhunt Spreads For Con Escapee

3 Teenagers Forced To Drive Desperado To Birmingham

Murfreesboro, Tenn. (AP)—The search for Georgia desperado Spence Edwards included Birmingham Thursday after 3 Shelbyville, Tenn., teenagers told officers he forced them to drive him there.

The 3 youths returned to their homes Thursday and were immediately questioned by Federal Bureau of Investigation agents.

Birmingham police, however, report no sign of Edwards.

Simon Warner Jr., told a newsman Edwards overtook him and two friends in a highway patrol car Wednesday night, then forced them at gunpoint to drive him to Birmingham in their car.

The car broke down when they reached Birmingham, and Warner said Edwards gave them 20 dollars to get it fixed and get home. He was believed to have commandeered another vehicle and driven off.

In Birmingham, police said there is no evidence of a kidnaping. Officers said it appeared that Edwards was met by prearrangement on Birmingham's southside.

Birmingham police said they were told that Edwards got into a 1953 or 1954 automobile with another man. They described the car as dark brown over light brown or cream, but said that no car fitting the description has been reported stolen.

The 32-year-old desperado fled a prison farm near Dalton, Ga., Tuesday and kidnaped a nearby resident, Hubert Turner. They drove to Tennessee in a truck belonging to Turner. Edwards was serving a life sentence for killing a Georgia state policeman in 1947."

In Tennessee, Edwards commandeered a highway patrol car and handcuffed the patrolman, Tom Moore of Smithville to a tree. Using adhesive tape, he bound Moore and Turner together. Both are now free.

Edwards was believed headed here in an attempt to free a younger brother, Harry, 30, who is jailed on a murder charge. Harry, who said he would rather die than escape with Spence, Thursday broadcast a tearful plea to his brother to give himself up.

OGLALA SIOUX CEREMONY HONORS GRANDSINGER

Chief James Red Cloud of the Oglala Sioux Tribe (center, holding headdress) chants the traditional song which once welcomed home warriors of the tribe before placing an eagle-feather headdress on Loyd Grandsinger (at the chief's left) during welcome-home ceremonies at Pine Ridge, S.D., for the part-Indian young man who was acquitted by a second jury of the murder of a state patrolman.

Tribal Festival, Thanksgiving Dinner Welcome Loyd Grandsinger Home

Lincoln Star Special

Pine Ridge, S.D.—The rhythmic beat of the tom-toms, traditional dances, a Thanksgiving feast and an Oglala Sioux Tribal ceremony Thursday welcomed home a still "stirred up and nervous" Loyd Grandsinger.

The 25-year-old part Oglala Sioux said his freedom had "not quite soaked in yet" on this his first day of freedom in more than 4 years, most of it spent under the shadow of the electric chair at the State Penitentiary.

Most of the family was here for the festivities — chief among them Loyd's father, gaunt and aging Paul Grandsinger who farms near Winter, S.D., and Mrs. Debbie Didier of Valentine, Neb., who had helped raise Loyd as a child and who had frequently visited him in Lincoln.

Missing was his brother Leon, serving a ten-year sentence in the Nebraska Penitentiary on a plea of guilty to manslaughter in the same incident in which Loyd was first convicted and sentenced to death 4 years ago for the slaying of State Patrolman Marvin Hansen. The Thursday celebration was made possible by a chain of events including Federal Court ruling that his first trial had been unfair and the subsequent retrial in which a jury on Thanksgiving eve found him not guilty.

Big Dinner

In recognition of the oldest holiday of non-Indian America, there was a Thanksgiving feast at the home of Mrs. Ethel Merrival, Oglala Sioux Tribe Council member who had represented the tribe at the second trial.

It was "turkey and all the trimmings," at Mrs. Merrival's, Grandsinger told The Star, "but I couldn't eat too much. I'm still too stirred up and nervous."

"But there was plenty there for everyone," he said, adding, "I feel great."

The American Legion Hall here was the scene of a ceremony older than Thanksgiving as a little group of Oglala Sioux Iindians in beaded buckskins and feathers gave thanks to the great spirit in a solemn ceremony out of the past.

During the traditional ceremony of victory and thanksgiving, Grandsinger, wearing white man's clothes, stood before aged Oglala Sioux Chief James Red Cloud as he chanted the traditional song with which the tribe once welcomed successful warriors returned from battle.

Headdress Given

Then the chief placed on the young man's head a warrior's headdress of eagle feathers died yellow with black tips.

"Don't harbor any hard feelings against anyone for what you went through," a translator said the old chief told Grandsinger. "Learn to forgive and trust in God and live your life all over again and you and your family will be benefited."

The chief gave Grandsinger a peace pipe with the comment:

"In the early days through the peace pipe you offered your prayers to the great spirit for guidance.

"Go now, my son, and be a good citizen."

Eleven Indians in buckskin tribal dress then staged a symbolic dance to end the ceremony before the Grandsingers went off to the Thanksgiving dinner at Mrs. Merrival's.

Indian Party

As many friends of Grandsinger as could be contacted—more than 150, Loyd estimated—gathered at the Legion hall after the dinner for a genuinely Indian party.

There were tribal dances and songs, and the sound of the musical Sioux language mingled with the English of non-Indians and younger people through the beat of the drums.

"We're just having a real good time," Grandsinger said. And late Thursday night after the celebration, he set out with his father for "home" near Winter.

"I haven't had time to make any plans yet," the young man said when asked about his future. "Of course I want to make a good future, but first I want to get re-established."

No Nebraska, South Dakota Charges Set

Loyd Grandsinger, freed by a Rushville jury in the death of State Safety Patrolman Marvin Hansen, has no charges pending against him in connection with the robbery of a Wewala, S.D. post office and grocery store.

Loyd and his brother Leon were fleeing from the scene of the robbery at the time of Hansen's death.

Tripp County S.D. Attorney Marvin Talbot said, "as far as the state is concerned no charges are pending against Loyd."

Talbot said his office hadn't discussed the possibility of filing any charges against him.

No charges against Loyd are pending in Cherry County either according to Dean L. Donoho, county attorney.

Donoho refused to comment when asked if he was contemplating any charges against Loyd. He noted that he thought it would be improper to comment on whether or not charges were planned until he had taken some action.

Sheriff Freeman: 'People Shocked By Jury's Verdict'

Valentine, Neb. (AP)—Cherry County Sheriff William Freeman said "25 people had been in his office" up to mid-forenoon Thursday protesting the finding by a Rushville jury of the innocence of Loyd Grandsinger.

Freeman described people in the Valentine area "as shocked" by the jury's finding.

Grandsinger, found innocent of murder in the 1954 slaying of State Trooper Marvin Hansen, had been found guilty of the charge by a jury in Cherry County earlier. He appealed to the federal courts and was granted a new trial.

"I still feel Grandsinger is guilty," said Freeman, who served as a prosecution witness in the Rushville trial.

Buses, Trains Jammed

Airlines Strikes Slow Travelers

By The Associated Press

Airline strikes inconvenienced but apparently did not seriously disrupt Thanksgiving holiday travel over the nation Thursday.

Operations at Eastern and Trans World Airlines have been halted all week by strikes affecting some 35,000 workers.

Nonstriking airlines put every available craft into service to handle the holiday crush and trains and buses were jammed, too. But the mid-holiday lull arrived and most carriers reported little crowding.

If the strikes continue, a bigger crush of business is expected on Sunday, when vacationers will be returning home.

Machinists

A strike by members of the Flight Engineers International Assn. halted Eastern Airlines flights on Monday. TWA flight operations ceased the same day as a result of a strike which began Friday by the International Assn. of Machinists.

Wages were the main issue at TWA, while a dispute over flight engineers' training requirements was a major difficulty at Eastern.

A 3rd strike, by airline stewards and stewardesses at the relatively small Lake Central Airlines in the Midwest, did not halt operations.

A threatened 4th walkout, by members of the Air Line Pilots Assn. against American Airlines, was postponed at least until Friday by a court injunction.

New Effort

In Kansas City, National Mediation Board representative Frank Switzer said he would make a new effort Friday to bring both sides together in the TWA dispute.

Representatives of the 6,700 mechanics striking against TWA have demanded more than the 15% wage increase offered by the company. The line is one of the nation's largest.

At Eastern Airlines, where both the machinists and flight engineers have walked out, the "3rd man"—flight engineer—is a major stumbling block.

'Free City' Nixed

2 Million People Won't Be Left To Commies

Washington (AP)—The United States Thursday night barred any agreement with Russia on the status of West Berlin which would abandon that city's more than 2 million people to Communist control.

Rejection of Russia's proposal to convert West Berlin into a "free city" was clearly foreshadowed by a statement issued by the State Department.

"The Soviets seem to be proposing," the statement said, "that while they keep their grip on East Berlin, the 3 Western allies abandon their rights in West Berlin and retire in favor of what is called a 'free city.'"

The United States declared it would not agree to Russia's singlehanded repudiation of its past agreements to cooperate in the occupation of Berlin and then sternly asserted:

"Neither will it enter into any agreement with the Soviet Union which, whatever the form, would have the end result of abandoning the people of West Berlin to hostile domination."

The United States, the statement said, along with Britain and France, is "solemnly committed to the security of the Western sectors of Berlin. Two and a quarter million Western Berliners in reliance thereon have convincingly and courageously demonstrated the good fruits of freedom."

A Moscow story on West Berlin will be found on Page 2.

Even before the statement was issued it had seemed apparent that the Western powers would reject Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's latest proposal — the idea of a neutralized free city of West Berlin.

Some authorities here said the main result of Khrushchev's move was to stall off a grave Berlin crisis for at least 6 months. The Soviet premier said he would allow that time for negotiation and discussion of the idea. If he wanted to let the whole subject die out, this would be one way to go about it.

Might Drop It

There was some speculation here that Khrushchev might be planning to drop the issue without letting the East Berlin Communists take over from Russia, as he had promised. That would avoid a showdown with the United States, Britain and France over movement of their supplies into West Berlin. The Western powers do not recognize East German authority and as recently as Wednesday Secretary of State Dulles asserted they would not do so.

But most informed officials continued to take the Soviet threat seriously. They seemed to feel that what Khrushchev had offered at most was a 6 months breathing spell to avoid the danger of a military clash. In the end, according to this reasoning, Khrushchev must be expected at least to give the East Germans greater authority in East Berlin.

W. Germany Defiant

Berlin (AP) — West German officials and an opposition leader joined Thursday in defying Soviet Premier Khrushchev's plan to neutralize West Berlin as a free city.

They appealed to the West to back them up.

Erich Ollenhauer, leader of West Germany's Socialists, assured West Berliners that his party stands firmly behind them. The Socialists are the nation's 2nd largest party after Adenauer's Christian Democrats.

Russ Want West Berlin Made Free City

4-Power Pact Termed Null And Void

. . . By Moscow

Moscow (AP) — Soviet Russia announced Thursday it wants to turn West Berlin into a demilitarized free city next year. It proposed 6 months of negotiations with the West to arrange for the switch.

The Soviet government notified the United States that the Russians regard the Big 4 occupation agreements of 1944-45 as null and void.

It offered the free city plan as a substitute on a take it or leave it basis, suggesting that U.N. observers might keep watch after the troops pull out.

Firm Demand

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev said this was not an ultimatum, but the Soviet Union will press for liquidation of "that cancerous tumor that is West Berlin" regardless of the West's reaction.

"The 6-month period will give us time to negotiate, time to talk about the problem," Khrushchev told his first news conference in the Kremlin since he took over the premiership last spring.

East Berlin would be exempt. The Communist East German government already has sovereignty over East Berlin and uses it as its capital. Russian troops are based there under a 1957 agreement between East Germany and Russia.

The formal soviet call for a change in the status of West

24-Page Note

The formal soviet call for a change in the status of West Berlin—home to 2,200,000 Germans who regard themselves as citizens of the Bonn Republic—came in a 24-page note handed to U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn E. Thompson Jr., by Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

Laced with charges of violations by the United States, Britain and France of the occupation agreements, the note promised nevertheless that the Russians would keep control over transport links supplying the 10,000 Western fighting men in Berlin during the next 6 months. These evidently were intended as soothing words.

Bid For Support

United Nations (UPI)—Western diplomats looked upon Russia's scheme for a disarmed free city of West Berlin as a bid for neutral support of its drive to oust the West from the city.

They regarded the offer of United Nations observation of the "free city" as a kind of propaganda device to enlist worldwide backing of the Russian position.

There was no official comment here.

TOGETHER FOR DINNER

Rep. Coya Knutson (D-Minn) and her husband, Andy, get together for Thanksgiving dinner at a restaurant in Washington. The Knutsons have been at odds over the Congresswoman's political career. Mrs. Knutson was defeated for reelection in the Nov. 4 general election.

Coya Knutson And Her Mate Seem Reconciled

. . . They Eat Thanksgiving Dinner Together

Washington (AP) — It was back-together-at-Thanksgiving Thursday for Rep. Coya Knutson (D-Minn) and her husband Andy.

Only the day before he had withdrawn a $200,000 suit against William Kjeldahl, executive secretary to Mrs. Knutson, alleging alienation of affections and slander.

Thursday afternoon the Knutsons and their 18-year-old adopted son Terry went to a Connecticut Avenue restaurant featuring Swedish food to have their Thanksgiving dinner. Everything seemed harmonious.

Asked whether this get-together meant they had settled their differences, Knutson replied crisply that since this was a family dinner, there would be no comment for reporters.

Mrs. Knutson, who ignored her husband's public plea to get out of politics and come home, backed him up in this refusal to talk. She was defeated for re-election this month.

Asked whether she would run again in 1960, she said, "I have no idea. I really don't know."

She was asked too about reports of differences involving rent payments for her Congressional sub-headquarters in their hotel at Oklee, Minn. She said "we don't know anything at all about that."

Their differences became public last May when Knutson began sending up "Coya come home" cries.

His pleas were ignored by Mrs. Knutson, a 2-term congresswoman and former school teacher. She was defeated in the Nov. 4 election after a campaign in which she spoke in their home town without going by to see her husband.

U.S. Stratosphere Balloon Flight Is Halted After Rip

Rapid City, S.D. (AP)—A Navy stratosphere balloon flight was canceled Thursday as too great a risk to the crewmen after a giant plastic bag that was to have borne a sealed gondola to 80,000 feet ripped open and collapsed as it was being inflated Wednesday.

The accident was the final crushing blow to the project that had been stymied for weeks because of adverse weather conditions. Dr. John Strong, Johns Hopkins University astrophysicist and Navy Cmdr. Malcolm Ross had planned to ride the gondola to a point high above most of the earth's atmosphere to make telescopic studies of the planet Mars.

The two men had been in the gondola about 15 minutes awaiting takeoff when the balloon ripped near the top. Helium gas already pumped into the bag escaped and the balloon collapsed.

Plans had been made to attempt another launching with a substitute balloon Thursday, but the flight was called off after a launching crew conference.

Nikita Lauds Nixon Idea On Contest

Moscow (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev applauded Vice President Nixon for approving the idea of East-West competition in the improvement of living standards.

Referring to the Vice President's remarks before a British-American gathering in London, the Soviet Premier told a news conference with a grin: "For the first time I find myself almost in perfect agreement with Mr. Nixon."

"Mr. Nixon said 'let's really go in for competition with the Soviet Union,'" Khrushchev added.

"Yes, we are all in favor of that. Let's compete to see who gets better housing, higher living sandards, more culture, more freedom for the people and who fights best against tyranny. We have different conceptions about tyranny and, although the meanings of words are different, let's use those words nevertheless."

Forecast

Nixon had touched on Khrushchev's forecast that Russia would outstrip the West in the struggle for better living standards.

"If Mr. Khrushchev wishes to consider these steps as a form of competition," he said, "I am sure all of us would be delighted to accept the challenge. In such a contest, no one could really lose.

Fisherman Saved After Frigid Night

Hovland, Minn. (AP) — A veteran Great Lakes fisherman was rescued in good condition by the Coast Guard Thursday after a night of battling a frigid Lake Superior gale that swept his 16-foot skiff some 25 miles out onto the lake.

Another fisherman, lost in a similar small boat, was still missing.

Hilmer Aakvik, 55, said he kept from freezing to death in the near-zero temperature and 50 mile an hour winds by bailing water from the boat and pounding off the chunks of ice that formed from flying spray.

He refused offers of assistance and was able to walk from the rescue cutter under his own power. Aakvik was given medical attention for exposure and frostbite and taken to a hospital at Two Harbors, Minn.

Started Search

Aakvik had gone out to look for Carl Hammer, 25, when the younger man failed to return after venturing onto the lake to tend his nets. Both are of Hovland.

He said it was impossible to keep his outboard motor running in the 10-foot waves and drifted about 25 miles out into the lake. When the winds subsided toward morning he got the motor running again and headed into shore until his gas supply ran out. He was rescued by the Coast Guard cutter, about 10 miles offshore.

An Air Force helicopter and aircraft were assisting Coast Guard boats in the continuing search for Hammer.

Famed Conductor Rodzinski Dies

Boston (AP)—Artur Rodzinski, 64, famed conductor, died Thursday at the Massachusetts General Hospital where he was under treatment for a heart condition.

With him when he died was his 2nd wife, Halina. He had two sons, one by her and the other by his first wife.

Rodzinski came to Boston for treatment on the advice of Dr. Paul Dudley White, the heart specialist who treated President Eisenhower. Dr. White flew to Rome two years ago to treat Rodzinski for a heart attack there.

Skull Discovery Story Highlights Plains Conferen

A newly-discovered skull has attracted the attention of 70 archeologists and anthropoligists attending the 16th Plains Conference for Archeology at the University of Nebraska.

The skull, believed to be about 1,200 years old, was uncovered at the Bear Creek shelter about 70 miles west of St. Louis, Mo. J. Mett Shippee, in charge of the excavation said that the skull was discovered last week.

The Bear Creek shelter is in an area of Missouri which became inhabited by white men "who moved in following Lewis and Clark," Shippee said.

80 Other Burials

Shippee also introduced Indian pottery and pipes unearthed at an excavation site near Kansas City, Mo. These relics were found near an Indian burial mound, in which about 80 burials were also found.

"We expected to find no burials," Shippee said, "because pot hunters (amateur archeologists) have been digging there for over 50 years."

The delegates attending the convention represent an area bounded by central Canada, the Rio Grande, Mississippi River, and Rocky Mountains. Specialists from the Smithsonian Insitution in Washington are also attending. Almost every state in this area is represented—Texas, Oklahoma, Wisconsin, Wyoming, Colorado, Missouri, Mississippi, Iowa, North Dakota, South Dakota, and Nebraska, to name a few.

New Find Examined

Progress Reports Thursday

Henry Hamilton of Marshall, Mo., vice president of the Missouri Archeological Society and a member of the National Committee for the Recovery of Archeological Remains, is chairman of this year's conference. Dr. John Champe, chairman of the University of Nebraska department of anthropology, is in charge of local arrangements.

Highlighting Thursday sessions were progress reports on 1958 excavation projects. Harold A. Huscher, who works with the Smithsonian Institution in Lincoln, was chairman of the report session.

Friday's sessions will include: "Archeology of the Southern Plains," conducted by Dr. Robert L. Stephenson of Lincoln, head of the Smithsonian Institution in Lincoln; "Plains Ethnology," conducted by Dr. Preston Holder, associate professor of anthropology at the University of Nebraska; and "The Missouri Basin Chronology Program," conducted by Warren W. Caldwell of the Smithsonian Institution in Lincoln.

New officers will also be elected Friday during a 7:30 p.m. business meeting in the auditorium of the State Historical Society.

Some of the guest speakers attending the conference are Dr. Frank H. H. Roberts Jr. of Washington, chief of the Bureau of American Ethnology of the Smithsonian Institution; Dr. John Corbett of Washington, chief archeologist for the National Park Service; Dr. Richard Forbis, Glenbow Foundation of Calgary, Canada, and J. D. Herbert, director of the Glenbow Foundation also of Calgary; John Callender, an archeologist for the Minnesota Historical Society; Dr. Gene Weltfish of New York City; Mrs. Marjorie Lambert, curator of archeology at the Museum of New Mexico at Santa Fe; and Charlie R. Steen of the National Park Service, Santa Fe.

Presenting progress reports at Thursday's session were: Stephenson, William M. Bass III, Charles H. McNutt, Richard P. Wheeler, Huscher, Caldwell, Bernard Golden, Robert W. Neuman, William N. Irving, James J. F. Deetz, Eugene Fugle, George A. Agogino, James H. Howard, Raymond C. Bentzen, Marvin F. Kivett, Roger T. Grange Jr., Franklin Fenenga, Shippee, Dale R. Henning, E. Mott Davis, William Mulloy.

Benefits Hiked

Washington —Strike benefits for members of the Machinists Union have been increased 250%—from $10 a week to $35.

The union announced the increase, saying that its defense fund has passed two million dollars. Each member pays 50 cents a month into the fund.

The $10 benefit available to strikers had not been changed since 1911, a union spokesman said.

Rescue Try Fails In Chicago, Two Youths Drowned

Chicago (AP)—Firemen leaped into the frigid waters of a park pond Thursday in a gallant but futile effort to rescue two boys.

Witnesses told police 12-year-old Jerry Melnyk was walking on ice near the shore of the Humboldt Park Lagoon when he broke through and fell in. His companion, Roman Klowatyj, also 12, jumped in and attempted a rescue, but both floundered and then sank.

An alarm was sounded.

Firemen responded, and 9 of them jumped into the water at a time when the temperature was 22 above.

One fireman, Ronald Maloney, pulled the bodies from the bottom of the lagoon. Then, with the help of a colleague, Edward Gluga, he staggered ashore near collapse from the biting cold.

The boys were pronounced dead on arrival at St. Elizabeth's Hospital.

74 Adopted Kids Entertain Grandparents

Campton, Ky. (AP) —A trace of tears in her eyes, Mrs. Otis Tabor smiled and looked around the table where her 74 adopted children awaited Thanksgiving dinner.

"Some folks say you can't have your cake and eat it too, but we are doing just that, Otis and I."

It was hard to tell who was having more fun: The youngsters or the youngsters-at-heart who traveled nearly 500 miles from Belleville Mich., to the Bethany Children's Home.

Over one wall hung a sign reading: "Welcome Grandma and Grandpa Tabor."

Treated Royally

"Now isn't that nice," said Mrs. Tabor. "I couln't have been treated more royally if I had been Queen Elizabeht."

The couple arrived Tuesday using bus tickets supplied by Kentucky Gov. A. B. Chandler who had learned of their generosity during the past 4 years.

In addition to 1,800 quarts of home-grown fruits and vegetables, the couple has sent dresses, pajamas and aprons made from flour sacks to the home in a remote section of hilly eastern Kentucky.

"We were looking forward to this trip," said Mrs. Tabor. "It's our first together in 53 years of marriage."

Jury Service Unpopular

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

An intriguing area of law can be found in the all-important makeup and attitude of a jury. Many cases tried before a jury are decided as much by the disposition and beliefs of the jury members as by the facts or evidence. Seldom has a jury a very clearcut choice to make.

Members must ponder not only the simple question of innocence or guilt, but must determine the degree of guilt, too.

Survey On Jury Structure

The University of Chicago is in the process of a detailed study of the jury as a tool of our system of law. A part of this study was discussed before the Lincoln Bar Association by Prof. Dale Broeder of the University of Nebraska College of Law. Prof. Broeder worked on the Chicago project for two and one-half years. Results of a survey included in the study give us a basis for speculation as to one characteristic of juries.

The survey shows that 48 per cent of the general public would not want to serve on a jury, 36 per cent would like to serve and 16 per cent were undecided. This must be one of the things that runs through the minds of attorneys selecting jury members for important cases.

Which group of people would make the best jury members, those who wanted to serve or those who didn't? It would seem logical that the prosecution would generally favor an individual who wanted to serve. The idea here would be that the person had no reservations about strong enforcement of the law and was not too concerned with the perpetration of any injustice.

Not that such individuals lacked deep human emotions or were inconsiderate or mean, but their makeup or personality might make them more decisive and more confident. On the other hand, it is possible that the individual who did not want to serve on a jury harbored such feelings because of a state which might be called soft-heartedness.

Even though such individuals believed firmly in all phases of our legal processes and would never compromise the principle of punishment for the guilty, they may be of such a nature that they want no part of this system. They approve of it but want it administered by someone else. Such an individual might be a likely jury member from the point of view of the defense on the theory that only a very strong case would lead them to render a severe judgment.

However, either this reasoning is not quite accurate or jury service changes an individual's mind. The survey also showed that 94 per cent of past jury members sampled said they would like to serve again. If our theory on desire to serve was true, somewhere close to one-half of past jury members would not like to serve unless their service changed their minds.

The half-way mark would have been hit most of the time with the prosecution plugging for one type of individual and the defense seeking another. It would be encouraging if that was the case but service had changed the mind of some people.

It would be encouraging as a sign that a first-hand look at a trial resulted in changing the doubt, uncertainty or skepticism within an individual to confidence and determination. It would be most interesting if the Chicago project could shed some light on the deliberations of juries in general. A jury on a specific case never discusses that case publicly. Thus, people in general do not know on what basis or for what reason the jury arrived at the decision made. Perhaps a good attorney can figure out the things which determined the jury decision but even he would never be certain.

Behind Closed Doors

Does the average juror make up his mind on a point made early in the trial and thus block his mind on later important evidence? Or does a juror wait, as he should, until all the facts are in and then weigh the over-all effects of each bit of evidence? Does a juror justify a doubt as to guilt with a lighter verdict or does he make a clearcut choice between guilt and innocence? Information such as this could be most illuminating.

Time To Be Realistic

It can be expected that the national administration will declare a vindication of its farm program principles on the basis of the referendum returns from the recent corn producers voting.

Certainly it is a fact that the producers turned their back on the parity philosophy and a farm program as it has prevailed for some 20 years. They gave substantial support to Secretary Benson's alternative plan —one of unlimited corn production under an open market-based, low price support.

But under the impact of present day facts such interpretations lack validity. The true measurement of the Benson administration must be taken by the objectives it set forth to achieve against the results as we have them six years later.

The administration proposed to solve three critical public problems, (1) to get the farmer a more equitable price for his products in the marketplace, (2) to control and reduce federally held food surpluses and, (3) to remove the government from the cost and regulatory responsibilities of the past farm program.

The answers are easily arrived at. The farmer now has poorer prices, the surpluses are much greater, and the government is more deeply involved in regulatory matters and greatly increased cost. That spells but one thing; failure.

There was a long time in the life of this nation when the effects of bad official judgment could be tolerated. The mistakes were absorbed. Triumph lay more in the right to make them than in their results.

But the nation is currently living in a divided world confronted by a formidable adversary—a situation that demands correct rather than authoritative answers. In short, the system of scoring has changed. It is no longer a case of theorizing over a Sputnik but rather one of getting it up in the air. And it is not a case of who theoretically has the better economy, but rather of who operates the economy most successfully.

That Wonderful Time

This land of ours has come a long way since the spirit of '76 brought about our freedom. There has been great conflict among nations and magnificent strides have been made in the arts and sciences. Our social structure has undergone changes that would have been beyond the imagination a hundred years ago.

But there is one thing that remains static —that stays the same year after year and even century after century. Nothing has changed the sheer delight of just being a child. An institution of childhood that has always been with us is the neighborhood club.

These are informal groups composed generally of just one sex. No upstanding boys' club would have a girl among its membership and no little girls' club would have a pesky boy around, even if one wanted to be there. It doesn't take much, either, to establish a club. As a matter of fact, three or four clubs might be established and disbanded during the course of a month.

There are officers, to be sure, but if you disagree with the hierarchy, all you have to do is walk out on the whole affair and wait until the next club is organized. A meeting place is no problem as any empty garage will do as will a clump of trees or heavy bushes. Dress is informal—whatever you happen to have on at the time a meeting is called. The call is generally made whenever most of the members seem to be together with nothing better to do.

And the purpose of these clubs? There are no resolutions passed and no big issues of the day discussed. Then what is the purpose, one little boy was asked. Why, he said, just to have fun. Let's hope nobody ever decides that the younger generation must be changed. It would be a mighty complex world we live in were it not for the simplicity we learned as a child.

Watch Out, It's Loaded!

The popular conception of a banker or a moneyed man is a person who goes around with his thoughts always on $$$$$$.

For that reason it is hard to account for the deep feelings held by the Philadelphia Federal Reserve Bank about men's clothes. It is dreadfully worked up over the subject.

In its November Business Review it told the American man he is a mess sartorially, and a coward, too.

The peacock, the FR advises, lets the real inner peacock come through; spreads its fancy tail, fluffs its feathers, raises its proud head and for a show of sheer irridescent individuality it makes the rainbow run whimpering to cover. Man could do as much.

But men resemble lemmings, drab little arctic rodents which look exactly alike, if one cares to look, and are so totally conformist that if one tumbles into an ice crevasse all the rest will tumble in in exactly the same manner.

Men haven't always been so spiritless or fearful of being individualistic. No one was more individualistic than the rennaissance man who dressed with reckless disregard to cost and form and only demanded that he look different than any other man.

One can understand the Federal Reserve's yearning for men of distinction, but it is to be reminded that those colorfully dressed, heavily flounced gentlemen of the past were a little hard to deal with in the money lender's private office. They were given to taking offense at interest rates and even to suggestions that their notes were due. They used their swords to make shishkabobs out of unlucky but importunate bankers.

We are all for wearing a knee length red necktie with a blue suit every now and then, but it takes conformity to make that interesting and exceptional.

Dewey May Get Dirksen's Hide

WASHINGTON—The most dramatic moment of the Chicago 1952 Republican convention which nominated Eisenhower for president was a speech by Sen. Everett Dirksen, Illinois Republican, blasting Gov. Tom Dewey, two-time GOP nominee for president.

"Do not take us down the trail of destruction again," proclaimed the stentorian senator from Illinois in urging that the Republicans not follow Dewey's lead and nominate Eisenhower.

The Dirksen blast was the most vehement perhaps ever delivered publicly against a high Republican by another Republican.

Six years have passed, and the political wheel of fate has swung around to point the finger once again on hulking Senator Dirksen and the diminutvie Tom Dewey. This time Dirksen seeks to become Republican leader of the Senate, replacing Bill Knowland of California. This time Dewey, retired from public office but still active behind the scenes, may have the power to block him.

Dewey now has four of his own senators in the U.S. Senate. And they are leading the backstage move to defeat Dirksen as Senate GOP leader. The four in the Dewey stable are: Jacob Javits of New York and Ken Keating, the newly elected Republican from New York; Clifford Case of New Jersey, and Hugh Scott, newly elected from Philadelphia and onetime campaign manager for Dewey.

The battle against Dirksen, however, goes much deeper than any feud with Dewey. It goes to the basic question of whether the Republican party will, under Rockefeller, be liberal or conservative, cling to the old Taft crowd or with the old Teddy Roosevelt wing.

It also goes to the basic question of whether the tired old Republican elephant needs an injection of new blood.

The Young Turk Republican liberals include some excellent men—Norris Cotton of New Hampshire, Tom Kuchel of California, Lev Saltonstall of Massachusetts, Frank Carlson of Kansas.

But the Old Guard Republicans have seniority, prestige, and the power of encrusted rank. They include Sens. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, Bourke Hickenlooper of Iowa, Barry Goldwater of Arizona. Their ranks have been depleted by the exit of such old-timers as Bricker of Ohio, Malone of Nevada, Jenner of Indiana. But they are still strong and they are not anxious to bow to the Young Turk liberals.

So the battle may become just as important as the split between northern and southern Democrats.

Next Century Promises To Be A Crowded One

WASHINGTON — The world's greatest crop right now seems to be babies.

If things keep humming along, 100 years from now 6 billion or more people will be milling about in a worldwide traffic jam. Already there are 2,737,000,000 of us, and we're increasing at the rate of 47 million annually. Each year more babies are born than the entire population of France.

Naturally, thinking of crowded 2058 brings up this question:

Will there be enough to eat?

The Smithsonian Institution today replied to this question, but tacked on a surprising qualification.

"The answer is yes," G. V. Jacks said in an annual report put out by the Smithsonian, "provided most (of the 6 billion persons) live in towns and produce enough wealth to pay for the food they need.

"If they offer enough money for their food, the food will be produced."

Jacks, one of Europe's leading soil experts, is the director of Britain's Chief Center for Agricultural Research.

He contends that not until man moves into town, and starts to prosper, is it worthwhile for the farmer to begin proper conservation practices.

"The countries showing the highest average soil fertility," he says, "are the most densely populated and highly industrialized — Britain, Germany, Holland, Belgium, Japan—and agricultural Denmark, the exception that proves the rule."

Well, man long has worried about future population. In 1798, Thomas Robert Mathus wrote "An Essay On The Principle Of Population As It Affects The Future Improvement Of Society."

Malthus took the gloomy view that population, if unchecked, tends to increase much faster than the food supply. Wars, famine, pestilence, misery and vice, he said, help whack down the population and keep it within bounds.

The experts have been kicking Malthus around ever since, and there has been only one real difficulty: most of the people don't consult the experts before having babies.

For example, Robert C. Cook, director of the Population Reference Bureau, a private organization, makes this point:

"Unfortunately, population is now increasing most rapidly precisely in those already overcrowded parts of the world where economic prospects are least favorable."

☆ ☆ ☆

Possibly the worst view of the future came in a story by Flora Lewis, a foreign correspondent writing for the Washington Post and Times Herald.

She said some eastern European Communists were in China this year, talking over raising their standards of living with Mao Tze-Tung.

"Why do you worry about the standard of living?" He asked them. "It can only go down. In a few thousand years, there will be two billion in China and your country will have at least 10 times its present population.

"You'll have to have passes rationing the right to go out on the street for a breath of air.

"Forget the standard of living. Teach the people music."

THE NEIGHBORS SAY

Tenth Anniversary Storm

By MONA B. PARKER

Weather was the topic of the day over the coffeecups in western Nebraska and The Sandhill country where the brunt of the season's first blizzard made itself felt. . .

☆ ☆ ☆

The Atkinson Graphic preferred to take an optimistic view of the early storm. "We're thankful," they declared in a front-page caption, "that it turned out like this"—followed by a picture of main street on November 18—"instead of like this"—with a shot of the same spot 10 years before to the day. The six inches indeed looked like nothing compared to the mountains of snow that paralyzed Holt County during the winter of 1948 and 1949.

The first storm that year lasted 36 hours and was only the beginning of about eight that left snow on the ground there until late May. "Operation Snowbound" under Army direction sent trainloads of bulldozers into the area opening a lifeline for residents and cattle stranded without feed.

So Holt County took the storm without complaint, thankful for the moisture, and "hoping there is nothing ominous in the fact that it came almost exactly on the tenth anniversary of the big one that fathered a whole winter of misery."

☆ ☆ ☆

An entire truckload of garden produce was really on ice out near Gordon as a transport skidded on slick highways and turned over. Most drivers "holed up" to wait for better driving conditions. Cargo and equipment of the fleet stranded were estimated at over a million dollars.

☆ ☆ ☆

The folks of Rushville spent three or four anxious hours waiting out the time until two busloads of their band-playing youngsters made it safely home. Reports continued to come in of hazardous roads and cars and trucks either stalled or in dtiches.

So when they arrived, the Sheridan County Star said, "it was like having a BIG rock taken out of your heart."

Generous portions of late Sunday evening dinners had been kept back, and were soon warmed up and served by relieved mothers.

☆ ☆ ☆

The Morrill Montgomerys were in Lincoln, drove home into the storm, and found the last hundred miles the hardest. . .

Young Charles took the teen-ager's blithe attitude. . .

"Man, dig this cotton-pickin' white stuff!" he wrote for The Mail. "It's the most—man, I mean it's cool!"

☆ ☆ ☆

We don't need to worry any longer about when our first snowstorm will hit, the Curtis Enterprise reminded. Now we can turn our thoughts to something else. For instance, how many times we'll have to crack out the old shovel before springtime comes around again. . .

☆ ☆ ☆

The Lodgepole Nebraskan is convinced that winter is here. . .

"It took a small blizzard to convince us. Small wonder the blizzard hit when it did, though, right in the same period when the Democrats were blizzarding through the Republicans and the Huskers were blizzarding through Pittsburgh. . ."

Probably the saddest two people in all Sherman County, reported the Times, were the couple who drove to Lincoln with tickets to the Nebraska-Pittsburgh game in their pockets, heard some rumor on an expected defeat by a wide margin, and elected to take in a movie, instead. . .

☆ ☆ ☆

Christmas came early to the Lough household in Albion, with the Mister presenting the Missus with a much-needed new portable typewriter. He didn't think his old college machine she'd been using would hold out another month yet. . .

So Mrs. Lough, after exclaiming in delight, sat down and wrote the old standby, "Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their party."

But when she read it back, it came out: "Now is the time for all good Republicans to come to the aid of their party."

Finally she revised it thus: "Yesterday was the time for all good Republicans to come to the aid of their party."

The whole agricultural scene is changing, says the Western Nebraska Observer, even to the handling of temperamental livestock. Hobbles or a pitchfork handle across bossy's south end are no longer the order of the day. One just reaches for a shot of tranquilizer. In time, rodeos may even be drastically altered by the modern trend. "Instead of a rider charging after a cow while swinging his lariat over his head, he will have a poised hypodermic needle filled with tranquilizer ready to throw like a dart at the fleeing critter."

Kettering Genius A Living Memorial

We enjoy the fruit of the genius of Charles Kettering, who passed away the other day in Dayton, O. Ket made it possible for women (and many men) to operate automobiles, by his invention of the self-starter. He devised the first electric home refrigerator that worked well. He gave most of his great fortune to the research department of the Sloan-Kettering cancer laboratories in New York — out of which could one day come his ultimate gift to mankind.

We are not ruled by Mao Tse Tung who in the past eight months, according to Time Magazine, "has herded more than 90 per cent of mainland China's 500 million peasants into vast human poultry yards, called 'people's communes.'

If Mao's historic gamble succeeds, the ordinary Chinese of day after tomorrow will have no fixed job, no home and no real family."

We can go to the church of our choice today and thank the dear Lord that there's no one around to bar the path, or direct us where we don't want to go.

We can sleep tonight with no fear that there will be a pistol butt slammed against the door. It will just be the riveter, building the new office next door.

We can write a letter to the editor and state exactly what we like or dislike about the President, the Vice President, the Supreme Court, Congress, the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, motherhood and Westbrook Pegler.

There were many things to be thankful for yesterday. In case you couldn't lay your hands or thoughts on any:

The sun continues to rise each morning. Just think of that! Never misses. It heats the earth, enables the plants and you and all you love to survive, makes jobs for a lot of Florida and California publicity men.

The moon is around, too, inspiring lovers, still unpunctured despite the efforts of the finest missile experts on both sides of the Iron Curtain to do it in.

The tides rise and fall, cleansing the shore lines and keeping the Bay of Fundy in the crossword puzzles.

Spoke to the New Club of the City College of New York the other day —fine bunch of young people — and asked, "How many want to go into newspaper, radio or tv work?"

Only one raised his hand. The rest, by and large, want to be engineers. I tried to find some inspirational message for the maverick by thumbing through veteran Hearst Editor Edmond D. Coblentz's "Newsmen Speak," a remarkable book printed by the University of California Press. I was looking for something that Arthur Brisbane wrote a long time ago. Found it days later. If it sounds less than encouraging to the journalism student, let him read it twice. It will serve him well through the years. Brisbane wrote:

"A good newspaperman is one who can see a thing clearly and describe it simply . . . the best kind of newspaperman, and a rare kind, is he who can retain through the years the capacity to feel intensely and express intense feelings through his writings . . the young reporter, at his first hanging or electrocution, or great murder trial, feels everything about him intensely. Later, as a rule, he feels nothing at all, and that makes him a worthless newspaperman.

No Striking There

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: It seems as if everyone everywhere is going on strike for more money. Most of them have plenty of money ahead. I wonder what would happen if the boy on the front line during the war had gone on strike? What a mess the U.S. would be in now!

I don't think people give as much thought to these matters as they should. And it is these people who have "won the war" and not the boys who died for their country.

Strikes are the stupidest form of trying to solve anything. I am not somebody with a lot of money. My husband drives a city bus. Just stop and think what could or would happen if the boys in the front lines had gone on strike.

Nasser Repeats Claim West Attempting Split

. . . Blasts Tunisia, Jordan Leaders

Cairo (AP) — President Nasser repeated charges that the United States and Britain want to split the Arab countries and called the rulers of Tunisia and Jordan imperialist stooges.

The United Arab Republic leader spoke to a crowd of about 20,000 jammed into Cairo University's Assembly Hall.

He said President Habib Bourguiba of Tunisia and King Hussein of Jordan — who have defied Nasser — are tools of imperialists. In contrast, he pledged U. A. R. support for the revolutionary regimes of Premier Abdel Karim Kassem in Iraq and of Gen. Ibrahim Abboud in Sudan — although neither has warmed up to Nasser openly so far.

Nasser said the western countries imposed an economic blockade on Egypt after the 1956 British-French invasion of Suez was called off. The blockade was intended to provoke a revolution against him, Nasser said.

Curses Americans

"No revolution took place and everybody curses the British and Americans," Nasser said.

The U.A.R. chief said western countries think their talk about Arab nationalism "will affect the thinking of our brothers in Iraq, Kuwait and other oil producing countries. But this is nonsense that our brothers do not believe."

Despite difficulties with foreign exchange, the U.A.R. has increased the industrial, economic and agricultural production of Egypt and created new industries," Nasser said.

No Basis

He derided western claims that he provoked revolt in Lebanon in order to annex it to the U.A.R. and said there is no basis for stories that the U.A.R. wants to annex Iraq, adding:

"We constitute unity against the enemies of Arabs — zionism and imperialism . . . the armies of the U.A.R. and Iraq are together against Arab enemies."

He pledged again that union of the Syria-Egypt U.A.R. with any other country must be with the complete agreement of that country.

The stage for his speech of more than 3 hours was the annual conference of the Socialist-Democratic Cooperative Society that was founded by his National Union party.

Cops Quiz Teenagers In Slaying

Montgomery, Ala. (UPI) — Police questioned 29 members of a high school gang in the hunt for the killer of an 18-year-old boy. They later charged a tavern operator with manslaughter in connection with the case.

Detective Captain E. P. Brown said Thomas Frank Smith, 37, confessed in a written statement firing the shot that killed Richard Newman. Brown quoted the defendant as saying "he fired the gun into the ground to scare the rioters away. He said he had no intention of hurting anyone."

State toxicologist Van Pruitt said the .38 caliber bullet which pierced Newman's left side apparently ricocheted "off a hard surface" before entering the body.

Slashed

Newman was slain and J. L. Williams was slashed across the face with a knife after a wild riot of teen-aged members of the "Beta Gamma Club" at a tavern. Police confiscated a wide variety of lethal weapons from the cars of club members and said they feared the shooting marked the start of a gang war.

Kenneth Jarman, 18, was charged with knifing Williams. He was released under $100 bond.

"There have been threats and rumors of gangs planning to fight," Brown said. "The trouble stems from a minority of the teenagers, but they cause much trouble."

REDS RESUME EVERY-OTHER DAY SHELLING

Taipei (AP) — The Chinese Communists Thursday continued the alternate day rhythm they have introduced into the offshore island war.

After keeping their guns silent all day Wednesday — an even-numbered or no-shelling day — they resumed their attacks against the Quemoy islands. By nightfall they fired 270 rounds, the Defense Ministry reported.

Air Force Accepts Parachute Shop

Omaha — Completion and acceptance of a parachute and dinghy shop at Lincoln Air Force Base was announced by Col. James S. Caples, Air Force installations representative, for the Missouri River region.

This new facility will be used to clean, dry, repair, repack and inspect parachutes for crews of B-47 and KC-97 aircraft stationed at LAFB and also for servicing of "drag chutes" used for initial braking action by landing B-47's.

The construction was accomplished by Kingery Construction Company of Lincoln. The contract was awarded and construction supervised by the Omaha District Engineer of the Corps of Engineers. The new facility cost approximately $125,000.

Short Or Long Form, That Is The Income Tax Question

This is one of a series of articles on federal income tax filing. The articles are based on information provided by the Nebraska Society of Certified Public Accountants and the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service.)

If you are one of the millions of American taxpayers who spends the lion's share of his income feeding, clothing, housing and entertaining his family, chances are there is very little you can do to reduce your 1958 federal income tax bill—but you owe it to yourself to try.

First of all, decide which of the two individual tax forms you are going to use to report your income. If you choose the wrong one, you may automatically cut yourself off from a possible tax savings.

The easiest way to file is to use the simple 1040-A Form. It's a card the size of a check, on which you answer a few simple questions and have the choice of either computing your own tax or letting the Government do it for you.

$10,000 Or Less

Under a recent IRS ruling, you are permitted to use the card form for this year if your gross income consisted only of wages, dividends or interest totaling less than $10,000, and if you did not have more than $200 of gross income apart from that listed on your W-2 withholding slips.

Before deciding to use the card Form 1040-A, you should consider these facts:

1. Your tax will be figured from a table which allows you a deduction of about 10% of your income instead of itemized deductions for contributions, taxes, interest paid, medical and dental expenses, etc.

2. There is no provision in this form for filing as the "head of household", as a "surviving spouse" or for claiming special credits for dividends and retirement income.

If you are sure that these two points would not cost you any tax savings, and your income is within the limits for filing a Form 1040-A, you might as well use this simple card form.

When you elect to use the regular Form 1040, you still must decide whether to itemize deductions or take the standard deduction which usually amounts to about 10% of your income or $1,000, whichever is less.

Generally, you will save by itemizing deductions if you:

(1) Own real estate

(2) Had unusual medical expenses

(3) Had deductible child-care expense

(4) Suffered losses from fire, storm, accident or theft

(5) Made fairly large charitable contributions.

Questions Fly Thick And Fast After Ballot Kills Federal Corn Program

Questions race hot on the heels of the "exeiution by referendum" this week of the old federal allotment program on corn and the adoption by U.S. farmers of a new corn program for 1959.

What can farmers expect for corn prices next year and in the following years?

The U.S. Department of Agriculture says there may not be much difference between prices next year—the first year of no acreage controls—and this year. Next year the rate (based on 90% of the past 3-year market average) is expected to be between $1.12 and $1.15 a bushel. The Nebraska price support will likely equal this national estimate, according to Robert Webb, administrative director for the state Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Economists say it may take two or 3 years for corn prices to adjust to lower levels than would have prevailed under the old program, but predicted surplus increases may depress the market.

What effect will elimination of acreage allotments have on the present soil bank program?

It will likely have little effect, according to Virgil Eskew of Lincoln, new state director for the Conservation Reserve.

Under CR provisions, a farmer will still have to stay within his tolerance of permitted acreage, Eskew said.

"As far as we know, this will have no effect on the present CR program," he emphasized. He said his office has not yet received notification of any changes to expect. The Nebraska CR office has received 6,507 requests for 1959 contracts. They are now in the process of being executed.

What changes in crop production can be expected in 1959 due to the corn program changeover?

According to Webb, Nebraska may see less milo and more corn planted in '59.

The new program allows farmers to plant all the corn they want, at a guaranteed price support that promises to be slightly higher than the non-compliance rate paid to farmers in 1958. The milo support is expected to be lower than this year, and this may also lead to the shift.

Fires Take Lives Of 12

. . . In 4 States

United Press International

Early-morning fires snuffed out the lives of 12 persons, 10 of them children, Thursday with the greatest toll in a children's convalescent nursery in Oklahoma.

Quick work by employes and firemen checked a potentially tragic blaze in a Columbus, O., hospital. Near Wheaton, Ill., a dog's barking possibly saved the lives of 4 persons in a burning home.

At Warr Acres, Okla., a suburb of Oklahoma City, fire of undiscovered cause killed 5 helpless youngsters in a children's convalescent home and nursery and left a 6th in critical condition.

Victims were identified as:

Mary Elizabeth Butler, 5, daughter of Harrell Butler, Oklahoma City golf professional, and Maxine Butler.

Jerry Norsworthy, 3, Bethany, Okla.

Lee Wilhelm, 7, Midwest City, Okla.

Mike Engler, not quite 2, Houston, Tex.

Mary K. Pratt, 5, Amarillo, Tex.

6 Die In Arkansas

A residence fire at Little Rock, Ark., killed Mr. and Mrs. Dorothy Sanders, their 8-year-old daughter and 3 younger sons. Another son, David, 11, escaped with serious burns.

At Milford, Conn., a 3-year-old girl, Tamora Dumont, died in a fire similar to one which had killed 4 of her brothers and sisters in another state before she was born. A heater set fire to the home. Her father, Ernest, saved 3 children but could not return for Tamora.

In Vermont, a man in his 70s died in an early-morning blaze.

Grandfather Eisenhower Presides At Turkey Dinner

Augusta, Ga. (AP)—A beaming President Eisenhower carved a 35-pound turkey at a Thanksgiving family dinner Thursday night. And—in the manner of many another head-of-the-house—he fussed a bit about the knife being dull.

The vacationing President also disclosed a preference for dark meat in complying with the requests of his 4 small grandchildren for white meat.

The President, his wife and the eager, hungry youngsters—David 10, Barbara Anne 9, Susan 6, and Mary Jean 2—were joined at the well-laden family table by the children's parents, Army Maj. and Mrs. John Eisenhower.

Served On Porch

The traditional Thanksgiving dinner was served on the sun porch of the temporary White House at the Augusta National Golf Club.

The carving well along, the President asked his grandchildren in turn whether they wanted light or dark meat. They all said white, and then he said, with the dark obviously in mind:

"Well, you just don't know what's good — or maybe I don't."

In the end, however, he took some of each.

The murkiness and the cold kept the Eisenhowers indoors a good part of the day.

However, the President and his son did get out for a round of golf despite the continuing cloudiness.

3 Tots Killed

New Waterford, N.S. (AP) — Three children died in a fire at nearby Scotchdown. Their mother was unable to reach them because of heat and smoke.

The victims, children of Mr. and Mrs. David Mills, were Iris, 8 weeks old; Valerie, 2, and Robert 3. A 4-year-old daughter, Betty, escaped.

Mrs. Mills said she was visiting neighbors when she saw her 4-room bungalow aflame. Attempts by her and neighbors to reach the screaming children failed.

Khrushchev Claims His 'Free Berlin' Plan Offered To Ease Tensions

London (UPI) — Following is a monitored summary of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's Moscow news conference as carried by Radio Moscow's English and German language broadcasts:

Asked by the Pravda correspondent why the problem of liquidating the occupation regime in Berlin had been raised by the Soviet government at this particular moment and what aims it was pursuing with this step, Khrushchev replied:

"The peoples are extremely alarmed about the tense relations prevailing between the big powers today. We have taken many steps to ease tension, to attain peaceful coexistence and bring about a situation in which not only are there no wars but no conflicts between the big powers.

"To this end it is necessary in the first place to conclude peace with Germany. Enough time has elapsed: 13 years, But there are 2 states on German territory, the G.D.R. (German Democratic Republic, or Communist East Germany) and the Federal Republic of Germany.

"They are states with different social and economic systems. In West Berlin an occupation regime is in force. Berlin is divided. It is self-evident that this anomalous position must be liquidated. The division of Berlin would only be justified if one of the parties were harboring aggressive designs.

"Berlin (is being) transformed into a festering sore of war. A failure to liquidate it could lead to sorrowful consequences. We have decided to liquidate this sore, and in this way make a contribution to the establishment of friendly relations between the states who waged a common struggle against Hitlerite Germany.

"All those in favor of coexistence and the cessation of the cold war will support the Soviet proposal. Those, on the other hand, who would like to turn the cold into a war will undoubtedly be aggrieved. But there are not many such people."

Replying to a question of the United Press International correspondent, Mr. Khrushchev underlined that although the present conditions in Berlin were not normal, the U.S.S.R. wanted to eliminate them in a normal way through negotiations. Naturally, he added, this applies if the other side doesn't resort to provocations and doesn't take undesirable steps.

Noting that Berlin is the capital of the German Democratic Republic, the correspondent of the France-Presse agency asked: "Why was it suggested to make West Berlin a free city?"

The question has been put correctly, Mr. Khrushchev said.

Berlin as a whole belongs to the German Democratic Republic, (East Germany.) This follows logically from The Potsdam agreement, but if we put forward such suggestions now many would not be able to understand them correctly. Different systems exist on the territory of Berlin. We want to approach the problem realistically.

That is why we consider that under the present circumstances the best thing is to create a free city so that the people who entertain no sympathies for Socialism could live under capitalism.

For its part, the U.S.S.R. promises to load the West Berlin enterprises with orders and supply the food better than it has been supplied until now. Naturally, all this should be done on a commercial basis. These measures will lead to a rise in the standard of living and employment of the population of West Berlin.

Mr. Khrushchev went on to note that international tension could lead to over-tension and in the final count to extremely dire cosequences for all of mankind. To eliminate the tension it was necessary to abolish the abnormal situation.

Daladier And Mendes-France Quitting Politics

Paris (AP) — Two stormy figures on the French political scene — Pierre Mendes-France and Edouard Daladier —bowed off the stage Thursday.

Both resigned as mayors of their local constituencies, a step withdrawing them from active politics, after their overwhelming defeat for the National Assembly last Sunday.

For Daladier, now 78, the withdrawal completes a political career that spanned half a century. He headed the French government that backed down before the Germans at the Munich conference which led to World War II.

For Mendes-France, 51, a comeback is possible and few believed he would be away long from the national political scene.

Princess Grace, Prince Rainier Visit Philadelphia

Philadelphia (AP) — Princess Grace of Monaco returned home to eat a 30-pound Thanksgiving turkey with her family. Protocol — the pat routine of royalty — was tossed out the window.

Ten policemen held back a crowd of curious Philadelphians as Grace and husband Prince Rainier drove into the semi-circular driveway of the home of Grace's father, John B. Kelly. The royal couple arrived in a chauffer-driven black limousine.

"The Stevens School welcomes Princess Grace," read a sign carried by 3 little girls in the front line of the gawking crowd.

Grace, a former movie star, studied dramatics as a student at that Chestnut Hill School for Girls.

The Prince and Princess came from New York. It's her first visit home in nearly two years.

Northern Gas Hike Effected

...Under Bond

Omaha (AP)—Northern Natural Gas Co. put rate increases into effect Thursday expected to return an additional $8,100,000 in revenues annually from the utilities which distribute gas from the Northern system.

The rate increases went into effect under bond, since the Federal Power Commission has not yet ruled on Northern's application of May 26 for the new rates.

The bond will cover the refunding of the additional rate

Nebraska News

money collected in the event FPC should deny the application.

The new rates cover northern customers in Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota and South Dakota.

In Lincoln, the City Council has okayed new rates for Central Electric and Gas Co. which will pass the increased wholesale rate on to the retail customers in the city on Nov. 27.

Council Bluffs Highway Link Hearing Is Set

Ames, Iowa — The Iowa State Highway Commission announced the scheduling of a public hearing on the proposed route of Interstate 29 and 80 at Council Bluffs. The hearing is set for 10 a.m. December 4, 1958 and will be held in the Community Room of City Hall in Council Bluffs.

Such hearings, held by the Commission, are required by law when a state highway department submits plans for a federal aid project involving the by-passing, or certain changes in going into or through any city, town or village.

Proposed location of Interstate highways 29 and 80 at Council Bluffs which will be discussed December 4 are:

Interstate Route #80 beginning at its east intersection with Interstate Route #29 southeast of Council Bluffs and extending westerly to the Iowa-Nebraska Boundary in the Missouri River; Interstate Route #29 beginning at its western intersection with Interstate #80 and extending in a north and northeasterly direction through the City of Council Bluffs to the north corporate limits of Council Bluffs; Interstate Route #80N from its intersection with Interstate Route #29 near West Broadway in the City of Council Bluffs, and extending westerly to the Iowa-Nebraska boundary in the Missouri River.

Curtis To Speak In Spite Of Labor Racketeer's Threat

Ord—A United States Senator, who has been warned by labor bosses that a "time bomb set to explode in 1960" will end his career, will be a speaker in Ord on Thursday, Dec. 4.

He's Senator Carl T. Curtis of Minden who will wind up a series of appearances in every county in the state in an all-day session here.

Senator Curtis, a member of the bi-partisan investigating committee that has been taking such labor leaders as Dave Beck, James Hoffa and others over the hump, was told last Monday that his days were limited.

In reply, the Senator said his Ord appearance would be, in effect, "a challenge to the labor racketeer's threat."

Technicality Halts New County Clerk

Lincoln Star Special

Ord, Neb. — Ed Huffman, winner in the Valley County clerk race over incumbent Leonard Woods, may not be able to take office until a technicality is cleared up.

Huffman, who ran as a Democrat on the county ticket, reportedly failed to change his listing as a member of the Republican party 90 days prior to the primary.

Upon advice from the attorney general's office, the case has been turned over to the district court. Judge Emerson Kroger has set Dec. 15 as hearing date.

Huffman won the election race by a substantial margin.

5 Preachers Staff Tiny Rulo Church

Rulo, Neb. (AP) — The congregation of the Trinity Methodist Church in this little Missouri River town believes that it has one of the biggest little churches anywhere.

It has a 54-member congregation and has a preacher for every 11 members. The pulpit is being filled by 3 ordained ministers and two men who qualify as lay preachers.

When the congregation found itself without a pastor sometime ago, The Rev. Albert Gray, pastor of the Falls City Methodist Church, was appointed to serve the Rulo church in an administrative capacity.

And this included either filling the pulpit himself or finding others to help. Since he has two services in his own church every Sunday morning, he decided on the latter course of action.

Recruits

He recruited The Rev. Herbert Twig of the Bethal Evangelical United Brethren Church near Preston, the Rev. John Biegert of the Falls City Evangelical United Brethren Church and Ben. C. Dale of Falls City and Max Langham of Peru, both of whom are considered lay preachers.

The 4 and The Rev. Mr. Gray rotate the Sunday morning service so that each preaches one week in 5.

To Be Holiday Bride

MISS PRISCILLA LOWE

Dr. and Mrs. Clarence G. Lowe this morning are announcing the betrothal and approaching marriage of their daughter, Priscilla, to Joseph S. Golden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Myron H. Golden of Ft, Lee, N. J.

The wedding will be an event of Sunday, Dec. 28, and the service will be solemnized at the University Episcopal Chapel.

The bride-elect is a graduate of the University of Nebraska and is taking graduate study at the University of Chicago where she is a staff member at the University Library. A graduate of the University of Chicago, Mr. Golden is studying for his Masters Degree in philosophy.

We Hear That

Leaving Wednesday evening to spend the Thanksgiving holiday at Seattle, Wash., were Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Behm who will be the guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Nye. On Saturday, Nov. 29, the Behms will attend the wedding of their granddaughter, Miss Lisle Nye. Miss Nye's mother will be remembered as the former Lisle Behm.

Around Town

—Thanksgiving still has its toe in the activity door since we have a few Thanksgiving guests, and Thanksgiving dinners to mention before we go on to parties for a bride-elect—and take a look at Christmas.

In a family group at the Lincoln Country Club on Thanksgiving night were Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Stuart, their daughter, Miss Dee Marie Stuart; their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Stuart, and Mr. and Mrs. Jean R. Kinder, all of whom were the guests of Mrs. Charles Stuart's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Brown.

• • •

—Then we learned that Mrs. Dan Gross and Miss Betty Ortman, both of Omaha, were in town yesterday—the Thanksgiving dinner guests of Mrs. M. P. Caplan who entertained at her home. Completing the guest list were Dr. and Mrs. Richard Mullin of Lincoln.

• • •

—And spending the Thanksgiving week end in Lincoln is Mrs. Eber Allen, a former Lincoln resident who now resides in Denver. During her stay in town Mrs. Allen is the house guest of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Allen.

• • •

—The bride-elect we have in mind this morning is Miss Judy Chapman whose marriage to Lt. Jack Clark will take place on Dec. 20.

At the moment Miss Chapman and her parents are in Salt Lake City but the soon-to-be-bride will return to Lincoln in plenty of time for another series of prenuptial courtesies.

The first three of these will be on Saturday, Dec. 6. On that Saturday morning Miss Chapman will be honored at a coffee for which Mrs. Henry Harper and Mrs. Clarence Penton will be hostesses. The bride-elect will be presented with a snack shower.

• • •

—And when Mrs. M. A. Alexander entertains at luncheon at Tillman's Plaza on Saturday Dec. 6, Miss Chapman again will be the honoree, and will receive a hostess gift.

• • •

—On Saturday evening (Dec. 6), Mrs. Oliver W. Hallam and Miss Nancy Hallam will compliment the bride-elect when they are hostesses at a 5:30 o'clock supper at their home. The guest list will include a group of old high school friends, and the piece de resistance will be the bridal cup, now in the possession of the group's first bride, Mrs. Tom Olson of Smyrna, Tenn., the former Cynthia Barber. Miss Chapman's whose name will be the second to be inscribed on the cup, will have it only temporarily — Next March she will be passing it on to the third bride.

Dear Abby . . .

Holes In Your Head, Dear.

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I know I'm a darned fool but I am so much in love I can't see straight. Bruce knows I'd do anything in the world for him, but he just uses me to get filled in on other girls. He gets interested in a new girl about two weeks, and asks me to "fill him in" on who she is, where she works and how she likes him. Bruce knows I have been in love with him ever since we were kids, but so far he treats me like a pal. I keep hoping that one day he will return my love. Please, Abby, how can I get Bruce to treat me like a sweetheart instead of a pal?

ONLY A PAL

DEAR ONLY: If anything gets "filled in" it should be the holes in your head. A smart girl does not "fill in" a man with whom she is in love on details concerning the competition. Drop this helpful routine or you'll remain on the bench forever.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: The woman who signed herself "INSULTED" because every doctor, dentist and eye doctor tries to take advantage of her is typical of the neurotic, frustrated female who runs from doctor to doctor seeking attention other than medical. My husband is a doctor and he wouldn't touch a female patient unless his office nurse was standing beside him as a witness to his ethical behavior. He's worked too hard to risk his professional reputation on one of these "Everybody-is-mad-about-me" type of woman. Thanks for letting me get this off my chest, Abby.

DOCTOR'S WIFE

DEAR ABBY: Thanks for setting "INSULTED" straight. Every doctor has had to treat women patients who imagine his interest in them is more than professional. What wishful thinking! Those women ought to take a man along—to protect the doctor!

DOCTOR'S NURSE

DEAR ABBY: What do you do when you find out your husband has been going with another woman when he thought he was in trouble comes to you and asks for your help? Crazy as it sounds, I stood by him and saw him through the whole mess. Am I out of my mind for forgiving him and helping him? We have four children and I want to know if you think they are good enough reason for swallowing my pride? FORGIVING

DEAR FORGIVING: I do not know of four better reasons.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: My brother met a girl four years ago. After courtship, he married her and now they have a son a year old. Before my brother met this girl she had a son out of wedlock. I never asked any questions because I felt it was their personal affair. My brother adopted this child and treats him with the same love as his own. My problem is: What to say to relatives and friends? Should the older boy be introduced as my brother's son, or just his wife's son? When I'm asked, "How many children has your brother?" Should I say ONE or TWO? SIS

DEAR SIS: Your brother has TWO sons. One adopted and one born to his wife and himself. Any other comments are unnecessary.

CHATTER In The CORRIDOR

LOUISE

Each sports season at Northeast High School has its own cheerleaders, and last Monday the girls who will cheer Northeast's basketball team on to victory for the 1958-59 season were chosen.

In the back row, left to right, are Mary Ann DeBoer, Kate Schaffer, Kay Webster, Alice Fletchall, Sharon Strauss and Sharon Shields.

BY LOUISE HOLBERT
Of Northeast High School

Lincoln Northeast students should certainly be proud of their outstanding sophomore class. These 10th graders, rapidly finding their place between the leaders of junior high and the followers of senior high, have made a name for themselves already this year. At a recent pep-rally, 352 strong, the sophomores outyelled the junior and senior classes and won the coveted yell cup. The sophomore football team, coached by Boyd Thompson and Bill Jones, played an undefeated season. Three 10th grade boys played on the Varsity football team. These students are very active in various clubs at LNE including Student Council, International Club, and Y-Teens. We at Lincoln Northeast are very proud of this class, and we know we can depend on them to uphold LNE's fine spirit and traditions in the coming years.

ROCKETS. . . R with an O. . . These are just a few of the cries heard Wednesday after school coming from the auditorium. Students wondered what it was. An off-season pep-rally perhaps? No, what Lincoln Northeast students heard was simply cheerleader tryouts for the 1958-59 basketball season. Upon looking in the auditorium one would have seen 36 junior and senior girls of all shapes and sizes, and all with fairly stiff joints! Of these 36 girls, displaying their abilities before a panel of teachers and students, 18 were selected as finalists. Of these 18; Kay Cole, Maxine Davis, Mary Ann DeBoer, Sue Elliot, Alice Fletchall, Judy Garrett, Alice Holm, Sue Hyland, Mary Kokes, Judy Lutes, Margrethe Plum, Kate Schaffer, Sharon Sheilds, Margaret Simms, Sharon Strauss, Ingrid Sandall, Kay Webster, and Joann Wendorff, seven were chosen at tryouts before the senior high Monday, to serve as basketball cheerleaders. A Lincoln Northeast regulation provides that no girl will serve as cheerleader for more than one sports season, contrary to the customs of other Lincoln Schools.

Neighbors Welcome Newlyweds

A large group of Patrician Heights residents turned out en masse Wednesday evening to honor the neighborhood's newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. William Hoeppner (Ellen Mahoney) who were married last Saturday.

Instigating plans for the surprise housewarming were Capt. and Mrs. Robert Hoffman, and the guests arrived at the Hoeppner home at 8 o'clock armed with delicacies and staples for the Hoeppner's pantry.

Pictured are, left to right, Ronald Van Buren and Philip; Susan Hoffman, Capt. R. D. Hoffman, Mrs. Fred Tager, Gordon Havlicek, Mrs. R. D. Hoffman, Mr. Tager, Mr. and Mrs. William Hoeppner, Nancy Hoffman, Mrs. Allen Barber, Mrs. Wilmer Waggoner and Mrs. Ronald Van Buren.

Guests In Lincoln

Arriving in Pershing Heights for the Thanksgiving festivities and a wedding were Sgt. and Mrs. Rollin Recroft of San Antonio, Tex., who are the guests of Sgt. Recroft's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Zimmerman.

Afternoon Wedding

MR. AND MRS. LOUIS E. HACKNEY

At an afternoon service solemnized on Sunday, Nov. 16, Miss Marian Beulke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil A. Beulke of Ceresco, became the bride of Louis E. Hackney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Tammeus of Delavan, Ill. Bouquets of chrysanthemums in autumn shades decorated the chancel of the Ceresco Lutheran Church for the ceremony, which was read by the Rev. LaVerne Thomas.

Wearing alike frocks of iridescent taffeta in the ruby red shade and fashioned in the ballerina length were Mrs. Dewaine Sporer of St. Louis, Mo., the matron of honor, and the bridesmaid, Miss Carol Seibert, Lincoln, who carried bouquets of white blossoms.

Francis Ravet of the Lincoln Air Force Base served Mr. Hackney as best man, and the ushers were Edmond J. Wirth, Larry Foulk and Ray Larson, all of Lincoln.

White lace and tulle over satin fashioned the bride's floor-length gown. A pointed collar of tulle and lace accented the long-sleeved bodice of lace, and points of the lace extended below the slim waist into the full tulle skirt.

The couple will reside at Delavan, Ill., atfer the first of the year. Mr, Hackney is a former student at the University of Illinois, and the bride attended the University of Nebraska.

KESSLER HEIGHTS

This morning we are happy to present not one, but two, new members of the talcum powder set who are specifically, Mary Jean and Myra Jane, twin daughters of Capt. and Mrs. Herbert Wheeler. Mary and Myra arrived on November 21st at Bryan Memorial Hospital. Their maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Austin of Bloomfield, Mo., and Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Wheeler of Bell City, Mo. are their paternal grandparents.

Mary and Myra have two sisters who are Janice Lynn, six, and Pamela Susanne, four years old.

Turning now to Thanksgiving news we learn that Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beadell and their children Holli Ann, Robert, and Rebecca were hosts and hostesses at their home when Mr. Beadell's aunt, Mrs. Jem Cram of Chicago was their guest during the Thanksgiving festivities.

It is in Minneapolis, Minn., where Mr. and Mrs. Ed Gross and their children, John, Carol, and Susan, will visit Mr. Gross' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gross, who are former Lincoln residents, for the Thanksgiving holidays.

Visiting in Henderson, Ia., on Nov. 29 and 30th will be Mr. and Mrs. George Holdren and their children, Chris, Greg, and Susie, who will be guests of Mrs. Holdren's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Sparr.

Turning now to news of bridge clubs we find that Mrs. John Minick was a hostess at her home last Tuesday evening for her bridge eightsome.

HOLLINGSWORTH HEIGHTS

Understand that Miss Sarah Spann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Spann, is spending the Thanksgiving week-end in Port Huron, Mich. visiting her sister, Miss Ellen Spann, who is a speech therapist in the Port Huron school system. Sarah is a student at the University of Nebrasks.

News from our birthday book this week tells us that Mr. and Mrs. Harry Leth and their son, Harry, will entertain at their home on Sunday in honor of the birthday of Mrs. Harold Haskett of Bellevue. Other guests at the dinner will be Harold Haskett and family, and Capt. and Mrs. Don Tippie and their family, also of Bellevue. The Leth family are former Bellevue residents.

PRAIRIE VALLEY

A host and hostess at their home yesterday at a Thanksgiving dinner were Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Eden who entertained for Mrs. Eden's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Loso and their son, Alynn, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Eden and their family of Lincoln.

And more Thanksgiving news tells us that Mr. and Mrs. Oakley Obermeyer had as their guests yesterday Mr. Obermeyer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Obermeyer of Martell; and Mrs. Obermeyer's father, Wilbur Hoppe of Lincoln.

A guest for the winter at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Harrison is Mr. Harrison's grandmother, Mrs. Edith McKinney of Barry, Ill.

FIENE HEIGHTS

Thanksgiving guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Seaberg are Mr. and Mrs. Seaberg's daughter-in-law, Mrs. James Seaberg of Enid, Okla.; and Mrs. Seaberg's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul D. Adams. Mrs. James Seaberg will be in Fiene Heights until Sunday.

Contributes To Kellogg Foundation

The Nebraska Federation of Women's Clubs, Inc. has subscribed $5000.00 to the University of Nebraska Foundation for the Kellogg Center for Continuing Education Fund, to be paid upon notification that the entire amount of matching funds has been pledged.

One of the Federation's principal objectives is education, and throughout its history, scholarships have been granted to nurses, and to students of music and art.

Knowing that this center will serve youth in school and out of school, and adults in professional and non-professional groups, the executive committee of the Nebraska Federation of Women's Clubs, Inc. at its recent meeting, felt this was a most worthwhile way to invest some of their accumulated contributions.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures gives you. NAIA Cage Meet Has National Flavor

16 States Listed On 6 Rosters

By Ron Speer

There's a national flavor in the NAIA District 11 basketball tournament which opens Monday at Pershing Auditorium.

Six Nebraska colleges will compete in the first of what is expected to become an annual "Tip-Off" tourney.

But 16 states are represented on the rosters of the 6 schools.

Concordia College, which meets Midland at 9:30 in the Monday nightcap, boasts the most non-Nebraskans.

Eight states have contributed to the 15-man Concordia roster.

Here's a breakdown of the states represented in the tourney: Missouri, 3; Arkansas, 1; Michigan, 1; California, 2; Florida, 1; Indiana, 1: Colorado, 2; Wisconsin, 3; Minnesota 1; Iowa, 6; Kansas, 2; Arizona, 1; Illinois, 1; Pennsylvania, 1, and Massachusetts, 1.

The Kearney Antelopes, co-seeded with Wesleyan, is the only team in the tourney that has only Nebraskans on the roster.

Among the competing Antelopes is Harry Boss, sharpshooting cager who led Ogallala to a runnerup spot in the Class A prep basketball tournament last spring.

Six Lincoln lads are listed on the teams rosters. They are Henry Sader, Doane sophomore: Arvid Barney, Wesleyan senior; J. V. Olson, Wesleyan sophomore; Jim Munford, Wesleyan freshman; Rudy Stoehr, Wesleyan sophomore; Marty Koolen, Midland senior.

Southern Stays Unbeaten, 20-13

Chattanooga, Tenn. (AP)—Mississippi Southern's defense preserved its first perfect football season Thursday, stopping the University of Chattanooga on 4 thrusts from one yard out in the last quarter to win 20-13.

The 9-0 season included victories over North Carolina State and Virginia Tech, giving the Southerners a claim to national small college supremacy.

Texas Routs Aggies 27-0

. . . Ramirez Triggers Triumph

Austin, Tex. (AP)—Slippery halfback Rene Ramirez snaked for 3 scores as Texas parlayed a bristling defense and a methodical ground attack for a 27-0 victory over Texas A&M Thursday.

The "Galloping Gaucho" slipped in from the 2 and the 5 and caught a 12-yard pass from crafty quarterback Bobby Lackey for another.

Texas' barb-sharp defense and a slippery ball here this raw, wet Thanksgiving Day was more than the Aggies' classy passer Charlie Milstead could take. Aggies drives bogged 5 times inside the Texas 20. A pass interception by Ramirez in the end zone killed one Aggie surge.

Some 52,000 loyal fans of the two arch rivals shivered in 40-degree weather. A drizzling rain fell most of the game.

Ramirez and Branch got 49 yards apiece for the balanced Texas attack.

Lackey and Cooper punted brilliantly under the game conditions, averaging 45 yards.

The triumph gave Texas a 3-3 record in the Southwest Conference and a 7-3 season mark. It was the 6th loss of the year for Texas' arch foe from College Station.

George Blanch, Texas halfback, recovered a fumble and intercepted a Milstead pass to put in motion the first two scoring drives. The first defensive gem by Blanch was on the 28. Fullback Clair Branch and Ramirez alternated on the drive, with Ramirez going in from the 2.

Alternate fullback Mike Dowdle, a 215-pound bulldozer, got 38 of the 65 yards in the next drive following Blanch's interception. The Texas alternates, directed by left-handed passer Larry Cooper, drove for the 3rd touchdown with Ramirez capping it with a 5-yard end sprint.

A short punt set up Texas' final score from the Aggie 38 with Lackey passing twice for 19 yards during the drive. His toss to Ramirez was good for 12 yards and the score.

So tough was the Texas line and secondary that the Aggies got only 39 yards rushing. Milstead, who saw 3 of his aerials grabbed off by Texas, hit 14 of 33 for 191 yards.

Texas smashed out 212 yards on the ground and passed for 41.

Mike Dowdle (33), University of Texas fullback, heads for an 8-yard gain as Luther Hall (24) of Texas A&M comes in to make the stop after eluding an attempted block by Texas' George Blanch (41).

Lion Air Show Halts Panthers

Pittsburgh (AP) — Rejuvenated Penn State, storming back with 4 touchdowns in the second half after a lethargic start, whipped Pitt 25-21 Tuesday in a hard-fought battle of traditional football foes.

The fired-up Nittany Lions tallied two touchdowns each in the final two quarters after spotting Pitt a 14-0 halftime advantage.

Senior quarterback Al Jacks sparked Penn State with timely passes and keen field generalship.

The loss ruined the Panthers' chances for a bid to the Gator Bowl. At the same time Penn State, off its stirring triumph, appeared to be in strong contention for an invitation to the postseason game at Jacksonville, Fla., Dec. 27.

A 14-6 loss earlier to the University of Nebraska had left Pitt's bowl status in doubt before the contest. Nebraska also beat Penn State, 14-7.

A Thanksgiving Day crowd of 39,479 at Pitt Stadium saw the Nittany Lions stage a magnificent second half rally. Norm Neff, junior end from Carlisle, Pa., took two touchdown passes for Penn State. Pat Botula, junior fullback, and sophomore halfback Don Jonas ran for the other State TDs.

The Panthers started as if they would run away with the game. Sophomore quarterback Ed Sharockman scored for Pitt in the first period on a 50-yard scamper. In the second quarter, halfback Joe Scisly went over from 3 yards out to give the Panthers a two-touchdown lead at the half.

Chuck Reinhold, sophomore quarterback, gave Pitt its final touchdown in the 3rd quarter on a sparkling 52-yard gallop.

Penn State, second among the nation's major colleges in rushing offense, took to the air to carve out this victory. With Jacks hitting his receivers consistently, Penn State picked up 101 yards through the air.

The Nittany Lions, who had a net rushing average of 258.4 yards going into the game, could gain only 103 yards on the ground against Pitt's powerful, mobile line.

Pitt, by comparison, rolled for 263 yards on the ground but made only 31 yards through the air.

The Nittany Lions intercepted 3 Panther passes, giving them the most pass interceptions—26—of any major college in the country this season. Penn State had been tied with Army for the most interceptions at 23.

Pitt lost the ball 4 times on fumbles as it ended its season with a 5-4-1 record. State's mark now is 6-3-1.

The Panthers' stout line, led by All-American guard candidate John Guzik, stopped Penn State cold in the first half.

The Panthers were 6-point favorites in this 58th renewal of a rivaly dating from 1893.

COACH GETS 5-YEAR OKAY

I-State Wants Clay Stapleton

Ames, Iowa (AP)—Iowa State College announced Thursday that it wants Clay Stapleton to stay on as head football coach for at least 5 more years.

Coach Stapleton, whose small but hard-hitting squad lost every conference game during the season, promptly announced he was gratified at the news and will stay.

Stapleton came here last February from Oregon State College under a 3-year tenure. He succeeded Jim Myers who quit his Iowa State job abruptly after a single season to take the Texas A&M job.

Dr. James A. Hilton, president of Iowa State, said Thursday that on recommendation of the athletic council, Stapleton's tenure had been extended 3 additional years.

Stapleton said the action came as a gratifying surprise.

"I have not been approached," he said, "and I would not have left Iowa State even if I had been invited elsewhere. This fine action is symbollic of the very reason I came to Iowa State—it serves notice on young men who anticipate attending college that Iowa State is stable athletically as well as academically."

There had been rumors in recent days that Stapleton might be leaving. One rumor was that Tommy Prothro might leave his post at Oregon State to become head football coach at UCLA, and that Stapleton would return to Oregon State.

Prothro himself said at Corvallis:

"There's not a thing to it. When I came here, I said only that I wanted to be associated with a school which had a healthy, active athletic program. My attitude hasn't changed and neither has the program."

Despite a hard-luck Big Eight Conference season, Stapleton's 33-man squad played fan-pleasing football and won all 4 non-conference games. It had victories over Drake, South Dakota, Arizona and San Jose State.

Stapleton said he looks forward eagerly to 1959. He is optimistic over the crop of freshman footballers who will be eligible for competition next fall.

Dr. Hilton said no salary considerations were involved at this time in connection with Stapleton's extended tenure. He said:

"Coach Stapleton and his staff have demonstrated that not only are they outstanding coaches, but are men who fit the philosophy and standards of Iowa State College. We have been immensely pleased with their performance . . ."

PACKER GAMBLES FAIL

Detroit Grabs 24-14 Victory

Detroit (AP)—A pair of 4th down gambles backfired on the Green Bay Packers Thursday and the Detroit Lions beat them 24-14 in their traditional Thanksgiving Day contest.

A crowd of 50,971 sat in 25-degree cold and a national television audience looked on in comfort as these two tailend teams battled it out for nothing but prestige in the National football League.

Quarterback Tobin Rote directed the Lions to an 87-yard scoring drive in the 3rd period, then plunged across for the score that enabled Detroit to take the lead after Green Bay had led twice.

But the Lions got two huge assists when the Packers' Max McGee, back to kick on 4th down deep in his own territory, elected to try to run for a first down. Both times McGee failed and both times the Lions moved in to score.

The score was tied 7-7 in the first period and the Packers faced 4th down at their own 19. McGee got a low pass from center but still had time to get the kick away. Instead, he ran the ball and was dropped one yard short of the necessary yardage. Detroit's Jim Martin then booted a 32-yard field goal that stood up for a 10-7 halftime lead.

Green Bay, with only one victory in 10 NFL games, marched 74 yards in 8 plays and seized a 14-10 lead early in the 3rd period.

Rote staged a one-man show passing for 78 yards in the drive and got the Lions back in front 17-14 later in the period.

WSC Alums Irked At Action On Bowl

Pullman, Wash. —A stream of telephone calls and telegrams from angry alumni came in Thursday in the wake of the UCLA-Southern California veto that killed Washington State's hopes for a football bowl game.

WSC made no attempt to hide the bitterness felt here and the school's athletic news office made public 7 of the choicest wires, most of them suggesting that the Cougars ignore the Pacific Coast Conference now and "go it alone" in search of a post-season date.

Athletic director Stan Bates said earlier however, there was no chance of that. WSC agreed in advance to accept any conference ruling. Besides, the lame duck conference is still alive until next July 1, has tie-ups with the National Collegiate Athletic Assn., and the NCAA sanctions all bowl games.

The two Los Angeles schools blocked the WSC request for a waiver of the PCC rule prohibiting member schools from playing in any post-season game except the Rose Bowl.

USC and UCLA invoked a clause in the PCC rules that requires the unanimous approval of all 9 schools before a telegraphic vote can be taken on petitions such as WSC presented. They held that the vote should only come up at a regular PCC meeting.

Wilbur Johns, UCLA athletic director, said, "We feel a rule is a rule" and added that UCLA was encouraged by the Los Angeles city council in 1954 to play Oklahoma in an "outside" bowl game. UCLA was ineligible for the Rose Bowl that year because of the no-repeat clause.

"I felt we had a rule, and automatically turned down the outside game," he said.

The UCLA and USC faculty representatives said that the Rose Bowl-only rule was passed and should be enforced for protection of all parties to the bowl contract—the Big Ten, the PCC, the Tournament of Roses and the National Broadcasting Co.

NBC televises the Rose Bowl and also the Sugar Bowl, a game the Cougars have been considered for along with the Gator Bowl. Sources here said the Sugar Bowl wants in intersectional game and that WSC could have had the bid.

Among the telegrams the WSC athletic news office released was this one:

"Congratulations on a successful football season. Tonight, sent following telegram to President Clark Kerr of California: 'UCLA action disgraceful, petty, unsportsmanlike.' Signed, Robert T. Turner, UCLA Class '39, Dean College of Arts and Sciences, Montana State University."

Meanwhile, Spokane alumni started a financial campaign to get the Cougars into the Rose Bowl—money to charter a plane and take all 37 players to Pasadena as spectators. WSC, 7-3, finished second to California for the Rose Bowl.

Virginia Tech Trips VMI, 21-16

Roanoke, Va. (AP) — Virginia Tech blended the expert passing of Billy Holsclaw with the explosive running of sophomore Pat Henry for two last-period touchdowns that whipped arch-rival Virginia Military, 21-16, here Thursday.

Holsclaw, a hip-jiggling offensive menace who didn't gain his starting spurs until his senior year, established Southern Conference records for total offense and for passing in the traditional Thanksgiving Day classic before a turnaway crowd of 27,500.

The 5-11, 170-pound quarterback completed 8 of 14 passes against the Keydets for 104 yards, bringing his passing total for the season to 1,013 yards. He added 28 yards afoot to boost his total offense to 1,227 yards.

KEEPING SCORE

With Al Beebe

Star Sports Staff Writer

Cal Cordes, coach at Brady of the Lincoln County Conference, has proposed an 8-man all-star football game for graduated seniors similar to the Shrine Game to be played in Omaha next year.

According to Russ Masters, sports editor of the North Platte Telegraph-Bulletin, Cordes feels that several top 8-man players in the state would be slighted in this year's voting for the 11-man game.

Well, that's true. A great many good 8-man players are going to be slighted. So are a great many 11-man and 6-man players going to miss the game, except as spectators, perhaps. After all, the teams will carry only 28 players each, under present plans. That means only 56 of a great many thousand Nebraska prep candidates will make the team.

The Shrine committee is scanning all candidates, and a qualified 8-man player has just as good a chance of making the squad as a gridder who has played 11-man ball. Naturally, the 11-man ranks will dominate the selections, since there are many more 11-man players.

But a good player won't have to have played 11-man ball, or even been on a top team, in order to make the list. If he's qualified, among the very best 56 players in the state, he'll play.

I am not necessarily against the 8-man game proposal, which would also be played for a charity sponsor, as the Shine Game. But let's not do it just to prevent slighting of players, which can never be prevented, no matter how many games are played. One game seems enough to me.

John Swanson of Ceresco rather severely takes me to task on failure to rate Ceresco No. 1 in 8-man football, and on the failure of quarterback Don Johnson to be named to the Sunday Journal and Star all-state team.

I could argue for hours on the ratings and never convince Swanson I am right, nor could I be convinced I am wrong. Which is perfectly okay with me. Suffice to say that, from all comparisons, Lawrence rated just barely above Ceresco, and O'Neill St. Mary's 53-0 trouncing of Lawrence was good enough for me.

As for Johnson, he is definitely a good back, but he got little support in the voting, most of it going to teammate Daryl Pearson, who was named to the 8-man team.

But Swanson has a couple misconceptions which should be corrected. He writes:

"You couldn't have put Ceresco on top in the final ratings because you wrote such a terrible article about them after the Exeter game, all you could do is run them

Tom Skypeck Peps Big Red Win, 19-7

Philadelphia (AP) — Quarterback Tom Skypeck engineered 3 Cornell touchdown drives Thursday, scoring twice himself, and passing for the other as the Big Red defeated traditional rival Penn 19-7.

The tall Cornell senior from Chicopee, Mass., guided his team on scoring drives of 75, 56 and 50 yards. He left the Penn defenses completely baffled by his varied play calling.

With an occasional Skypeck pass keeping Penn's defenses loose, backs Terry Wilson, Phil Taylor and George Bogar were able to rip the Quaker line in this annual Thanksgiving Day Ivy League rivalry.

Only the defensive play of Penn's all-Ivy end, Barney Berlinger, and the running of junior halfback Dave Coffin kept the game as close as it was. Berlinger several times halted Cornell thrusts with his smashing tackles, and Coffin, who recovered one fumble to halt a Cornell drive, scampered 23 yards for the lone Penn score.

Skypeck needed just two passes to move Cornell from its own territory into the Penn end zone for one touchdown. His interception of a Penn pass led directly to the final Cornell tally.

The Big Red from Ithaca, N.Y., took the opening kickoff to its 25 and marched the remaining 75 yards in 14 plays for a quick lead. Wilson was the big gainer, accounting for 52 yards with his runs. When Penn jammed its line to stop the running game, Skypeck passed 14 yards to Taylor and Penn opened up again. That was the pattern for the day. Skypeck finally went over from the 2 to climax the drive.

Rochester Win String At Stake

. . . In Ice Action

Saturday's home professional hockey opener at Pershing Municipal Auditorium will see the longest winning streak in U.S. Central Hockey League history go on the line.

The Rochester Mustangs, who won their final 14 games of the 1957-58 season, will be going after win number 17 here as they take the ice against the Lincoln-Minneapolis Culbertsons.

The Minnesota outfit has grabbed two quick decisions already this season before standing room only audiences on their home ice at Mayo Auditorium in Rochester. The first loop game of the season a week ago saw the Ken Johannson-coached team club Des Moines, 10-2, with 10-year vet Arley Carlson turning in a hat trick.

Wednesday, in the second game of the campaign, Rochester came from behind to upend Lincoln-Minneapolis, 8-4, behind the hard skating of Johannson, Carlson and ex-Now York Ranger Art Strobel.

The Culbertsons, coached by Bob Johnson and Paul McKinnon, will be out to break the longest win total for the circuit. The total of 16 to date is a healthy mark in anybody's hockey league.

Saturday's initial test at 8:15 p.m. on the Lincoln ice will see the Pershing-Auditorium crew completing finishing touches on the ice late Saturday afternoon. Roy Nelson, building superintendent, expects to have the rink in top condition.

Bass Wins 3 National Grid Titles

Fresno, Calif., (AP) — Halfback Dick Bass captured 3 national collegate foootball ttles Thursday as College of Pacific shattered Fresno State 52-6.

Bass, a 189-pounder from Vallejo, Calif., tallied 14 and gained 130 yards in 30 carries. He finished his season with 1,361 yards gained rushing in 205 carries, a total offense of 1,440 yards in 217 plays and 116 points scored.

Bass' total led the nation's footballers this year, the first time one man has won all 3 titles in a single year since Byron (Whizzer) White turned the trick for Colorado in 1937.

Despite Bass' record making day, COP's tiniest Tiger stole the show. Halfback Jack Larscheid, a 5-8, 156 pound senior from Pleasant Hill, scored a touchdown, scooted 91 yards in 14 carries, intercepted two passes and made tackles all over the field.

Bass scored the first COP touchdown from two yards out and after an 87 yard march in which he contributed 39 yards.

He scored his other touchdown midway in the 3rd period in a 75-yard march. Bass gained 43 of it.

Dawkins. . . Top Cadet

Pete Dawkins Maxwell Club Award Pick

Philadelphia (AP) — Army's Pete Dawkins, who two years ago failed to win a letter because of poor blocking and tackling, Thursday was named the No. 1 college football player of 1958 by the Maxwell Football Club.

The 20-year-old Detroit halfback, captain of the unbeaten Army team which meets Navy here Saturday in the annual classic at Municipal Stadium, is the 3rd Cadet to be so honored by the Maxwell club. Glenn Davis was named in 1945 and Felix (Doc) Blanchard the following year.

Dawkins, who is likened to Davis, will receive the award Jan. 19 at the club's annual dinner. The Maxwell Award is one of the oldest and most respected football honors in the country.

The president of the senior class at West Point, Dawkins has been the outstanding star of the 1958 Army team. He has scored 12 touchdowns and is described by Navy scouts as the man who holds his team together.

Dawkins, who also is outstanding in ice hockey, baseball and track, is commander of the Cadet corps and 7th in his class scholastically.

Tulsa Hurricane Whips Shockers

Tulsa, Okla. (AP) — Tulsa's bowl-hopeful Hurricane methodically ground out a 25-6 decision over Wichita's Wheat shockers Thursday on the line blasting of Bob Brumble and Ronnie Morris and pinpoint passing of Jerry Keeling.

The Tulsa triumph dashed Wichita's hopes of a Missouri Valley Conference championship and gave the title to North Texas State. It enabled the Hurricane to deadlock Houston for second place.

Tulsa finished its season campaign with a 7-3 mark, Wichita with 4-5-1.

Brumble and Morris, who between them carried the ball 46 times for 245 yards, each scored a touchdown and Keeling passed 22 and 30 yards to Billy Neal for two more.

KEEPING SCORE

down and write about the avid fans, you take your avid fans and we'll take our team which is the best in the state."

I'm wondering what was so terrible about my story on the Exeter game. I reported the facts, which were that Ceresco looked good in scoring twice in the first period and then had a frustrating final 3 periods due to penalties, etc.

I also reported the fact that fans had gone onto the field berating the officials in extremely abusive manner. It happened, and I'd be a rather poor newspaperman if I had ignored it.

I did mention that Coach Don Keller and Ceresco players quieted the fans. Now it would have been "terrible" if I hadn't reported that fact, too.

Avid fans? Yes, I wrote that Ceresco had a few rabid fans who gave the great many avid Ceresco fans a bad name. Look up the definitions of "rabid" and "avid" and you'll see I paid most Ceresco fans a compliment.

It that "terrible," too?

"I usually expect a break between football and basketball, but the cage sport always sneaks up fast. The non-football playing schools are already hard at it in basketball. First date for basketball schools is next Tuesday, with most of the bigger teams waiting until Friday.

In case you've forgotten, here are the defending state champions: Class AA, Lincoln High; Class A, Omaha Holy Name; Class B, Minden; Class C, Hastings St. Cecilia; Class D, Clatonia; Class E. Byron.

Of these, Holy Name, with Bob Eickholt still riding herd on the boards, is giving the best chance to repeat. Lincoln High is also a top contender. St. Cecilia has 7 letterman, but lost its top man, Jerry Sherman.

The others are likely to be in trouble. Byron, without big Ivan Grupe who paced two state titles, has already lost its opener to Ong, 61-36.

There are several teams to watch indicated by early games. Uehling, a Class C power last year, is one, although there seems to be some disagreement. The school has dropped to the D ranks this year, and has several returnees.

Coach Fred Longacre says his club can't compare to last year's team, which did lose several top stars. But Craig mentor George Sorenson, who has already been beaten, 62-43, by Uehling, says Uehling is tougher this season.

McCook Red Willow, Class D runner-up last season, will be strong again this season. Tobias looks like a Class E contender.

Pawnee City, state tourney runner-up in C last year, was expected to be a power, but lost 6-4 star center Elmer Jackson by transfer to Hastings. The Tigers, with lettermen already, could be a contender with Jackson to help.

Coach Doren Portwood at Swanton is hoping his 7 athletes do as well in basketball as they did in 6-man football The 7 players dropped their opener, but then won the last 5 games.

CSU Topples Denver, 9-8

Denver (AP) — Colorado State University staged its customary second half comeback to edge Denver 9-8 in a Skyline Conference football game played in a fierce snowstorm Thursday.

The temperature hovered around 16 degrees but 4,130 fans braved the frigid conditions to watch the traditional rivals close their season with a typically hard-fought battle.

Goats Win—So Should Cadets

West Point, N.Y. (AP) — The Goats whipped the Engineers 10-0 in their annual Thanksgiving Day football game Thursday and if tradition and superstition can be believed, that means big trouble for Navy when it plays Army Saturday.

According to a none-too-reliable legend, Army's football fortunes follow those of the Goats. It has come true only 17 times although the Goats lead the Engineers 24-9 in their series.

The Goats are the lower half of the second class in academic standing, the Engineers the upper half.

Utes Grind Out 12-7 Skyline Win

Hawkins' Passes Pace Gamecocks

Columbia, S.C. (AP) — Halfback Alex Hawkins passed for 3 touchdowns Thursday in a 24-7 football victory over Wake Forest that clinched second place in the Atlantic Coast Conference and kept alive South Carolina's hopes for a Gator Bowl bid.

All 3 of Hawkins' passes went to his halfback buddy, King Dixon. Fullback John Saunders, who scored one touchdown on a two yard plunge, took over the conference rushing lead by gaining 128 yards. His season total now stands at 653.

Wake Forest, frustrated on two marches deep into South Carolina territory, managed a touchdown on a beautifully-executed 72-yard pass from quarterback Norman Snead to halfback Jerry Ball in the second period. The touchdown gave the Deacons a short-lived 7-6 lead.

The Gamecocks, utilizing a crunching ground attack mixed with passes, moved 68-97, 42 and 50 yards for their touchdowns.

Wake Forest drove to the South Carolina 18 in the 3rd period, only to be halted by Dixon's pass interception on the one. Later in the period, Wake fullback Neil MacLean broke loose for 42 yards down the middle to the S.C. 11, but a motion penalty broke the back of the threat on the next play.

The Gamecocks ground out the yardage in short bursts on their opening 68-yard scoring march, the only single substantial gain being a 16-yard end sweep by Dixon to the Wake 18.

Hawkins hit Dixon right at the goal line corner with a 12-yard running pass for the score on his team's 97-yard drive. Quarterback Bobby Bunch had passed for 15 to end Buddy Mayfield and 21 to Dixon in this march.

Air Force Gives Martin New Pact

Colorado Springs, Colo. (AP) —The Air Force Academy Thursday gave a new 5-year contract with a substantial raise to football coach Ben Martin, who has produced an unbeaten team in his first season.

Martin came to the Air Force under a 3-year contract which has been replaced by the new pact.

"This is Thanksgiving Day and we are thankful to have coach Martin," said Col. George Simler, academy athletic director who announced the new contract.

Simler said he preferred not to discuss the terms but indicated the raise for Martin was substantial.

The 37-year-old Martin came to the academy last winter from the University of Virginia where he was head coach. He succeeded Lawrence T. (Buck) Shaw, who resigned to coach the professional Philadelphia Eagles.

GOP TO Win Only 4 Or 5 Seats In Alaska's New 60-Member Legislature

Juneau, Alaska (AP) — The most crushing defeat ever suffered by Republicans in Alaska grew more sharply defined as it became apparent they will win only 4 or 5 seats in the new 60-member legislature.

Democrats swept every major race in Alaska's first state election Tuesday, and the tremendous landslide carried down to the legislative level.

The vast new 49th state's two U.S. senators, one congressman, Governor and Secretary of State all are Democrats.

In the 20-member state Senate Republicans won one uncontested seat and hold a slim lead for another. Republican William K. Boardman was ahead of Democrat W.O. Smith by 21 votes with 3 precincts unreported. Both men are from Ketchikan.

During the last territorial legislature, which the Democrats controlled by their largest margin up to that time, their edge in the Senate was 11-5. That was in 1957.

In the present contests for the 40-member House, the Republicans have slim but clear-cut leads in only two. Republican Bruce Kendall was 36 votes ahead of Democrat A. N. Welch in the Valdez district with only one precinct out. And Republican John Longworth was 26 ahead of Democrat Eldor Lee with one precinct unreported in the Wrangell-Petersburg district.

The GOP had faint hopes of picking up a House seat in the central or northwestern districts, but returns from those areas in legislative races were still skimpy.

The Democratic edge in the 1957 territorial house was 21-3.

Counting will resume after the Thanksgiving holiday.

When tabulations were called off returns had been received from 213 of the 287 precincts, with the total vote reported standing at slightly more han 36,000.

The estimated 8,000-10,000 votes still out were from Democratic strongholds in Anchorage and Fairbanks or from outlying areas where the size of the vote could not upset the outcome of the major races.

The Democratic U.S. Senate winners were E. L. (Bob) Bartlett, non-voting delegate to Congress for nearly 14 years, and Ernest Gruenng, appointive governor of Alaska for 13 years. The House seat went to Ralph Rivers, former territorial attorney general, and Governor's chair to William Egan, Valdez merchant. Egan's victory also made his running mate, Hugh J. Wade, 57, Secretary of State.

Snow Hits Colorado, 3 Killed

Denver —A Thanksgiving Day snowstorm threw a heavy punch at most of Colorado.

Three persons were killed Thursday in an eastern Colorado traffic crash blamed on the storm. Moving in from the north, the snow covered most northern and western areas of the state and struck as far south as Pueblo and La Junta.

A forecaster at the U.S. Weather Station in Denver reported late Thursday it had stopped snowing in southern Wyoming and western Colorado. "It looks now as though the worst may be over," he said.

6-Inch Snow

The storm, striking out of skies that became overcast early Thursday to replace bright moonlight, left 6 inches or more of new snow in the mountain areas and up to 4 inches in Denver and eastward into the plains region.

It swept eastward into Kansas and Oklahoma where storm warnings were posted for farmers and motorists.

The fatal accident near Akron cost the lives of Carl E. Busby, 62, of Wray; his wife, Nell, 60, and Albert Dickerson, 61, of Marshalltown, Iowa.

State Patrolman Robert Howe said the two cars smashed head-on at a spot where visibility was badly reduced by falling and blowing snow.

Archbishop Ill

London (AP)—The Archbishop of Canterbury, 71-year-old primate of the Church of England, entered a hospital for a hernia operation, the church said. The archbishop, Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, is expected to be laid up a month.

'Juan Vigon'

Madrid — Generalissimo Francisco Franco, Spanish chief of state, inaugurated the first Spanish center for nuclear research.

The establishment is called "Juan Vigon" after the late Lt. Gen. Juan Vigon, military leader who fostered nuclear investigations in Spain.

Must 'Know, Serve, Praise, Love God' At Thanksgiving

"Know God; Serve Him; Praise Him, and Love Him." These 4 commands from Psalm 100 are needed according to the Rev. Arthur Salikeu, pastor of the First Baptist church to keep the holiday of Thanksgiving from being lost in a mist of sentimentality.

Delivering the sermon at a United Thanksgiving service at Eastridge Presbyterian Church, he said, "God has revealed himself in His World, His Word, and His Son Jesus Christ. But man must open his eyes to see the truth revealed."

Speaking of opportunity to priase God and be thankful to Him, he concluded, "The very most difficult sentences for men to utter are, 'I have sinned' and 'I thank you.' David was big enough to say both. He begged God's pardon and then thanked him for his Grace. We need to do the same."

Chaplain Speaks

In another United Service, Chaplain J. Benton White, Protestant Chaplain at Lincoln Air Force Base, spoke on the topic, "The Art of Gratitude".

In his Thanksgiving morning service at the Bethany Christian Church, he said, "We tend to remember our afflictions and forget our blessings. We ought to practice being thankful."

Chaplain White said, "We have so many things for which we can be thankful—life, friendships, freedom of worship, and living in a free country."

"Thanksgiving is not basically one day set aside for us to remember our blessings but a special day set aside to adapt an attitude of Thanksgiving 365 days of the year."

Stanton Delaplane's POSTCARD

The silver stars and the golden angels are up over our main street again.

In the early, chill dark of evening, the store windows glow with bright promise. Clear, electronic music pours smoothly into the night sky.

Well, we all went down the other night to see what Santa Claus has in his foxy pocket this year. (Santa Claus will take your Diner's Club card—that is one thing I found out.)

☆ ☆ ☆

Nearly all the things we want for Christmas run on batteries. This is pretty bad. Because when we are through running such toys, we never shut off the switch.

Also, nearly all these toys come apart. If they do not come apart easily, you can hack them apart with an ax. Or a screwdriver. Or beat them with a brick.

I would like to find some toys that you cannot take apart. But find that the cunning manufacturers are not inclined to build such things.

What they build is child's play to take apart. That is a good way to put it, I think.

☆ ☆ ☆

As I remember the toy trains and toy automobiles and toy steamshovels of yesteryear they required a whole lot of imagination.

We pushed them around. Crying: "Toot! Toot! New York Central. All aboard!"

Well, there is NOTHING you have to push this year.

All the cars and shovels are powered. They run in circles or in squares. You set a thing on the bottom to show them how to run.

☆ ☆ ☆

You can look at these things on the counter. But you cannot touch them. (Shows how little things have changed in THAT way.)

All the time you are itching to take off and see what makes it run. But if you so much as lay a pinkie on things, your family hollers:

"PUT IT DOWN!"

On the other hand, your father is always picking something up. He picks it up and puts it on the floor and runs it around in circles.

He says: "Boy, look at it go, will you?"

Then a store lady comes around and says: "Could I show you something?"

Your father says: "We are just looking, thank you."

Then he grabs your hand and pulls you off to another part of the store.

He says: "You see? I told you not to play with the toys."

☆ ☆ ☆

The best way to take small boys shopping is window shopping. There is nothing like seeing things behind a pane of plate glass. With the glass gradually clouding as you breathe on it. And all the things inside gettting dimmer—but more attractive too.

It is colder outside on the street. I think a bit of chilly weather helps.

A cold evening with a single bright star in the sky. And the Salvation Army lady ringing her silver bell. And the Santa Claus on the corner with the paper-brick chimney you drop money in.

And Christmas coming, coming. Just around the bend.

Sargent Remembers Friends—

'Bouquet' Turns Into Memorial To Doctors

Memorial Honors Doctors

Mrs. Lou Chapman of Sargent stands beside a memorial to two former doctors whose combined service to the town totaled almost 100 years. The memorial, located in Sargent city park, honors Dr. C. H. Fenstermacher, who died in 1956, and Dr. C. E. Taylor, who died in 1952. The memorial was recently completed. (Star Staff Photo.)

By David Clark

Sargent, Neb. — A wise man once said that no one ever really dies as long as he is remembered by his friends.

If that is true, two elderly doctors are living on in this community of some 900 persons to which they gave almost 100 years of service.

What began as a flower fund for Dr. C. H. Fenstermacher after his death nearly 3 years ago has progressed into a permanent memorial for him and Dr. Charles E. Taylor, who died in 1952.

"I started out for a community bouquet," said Mrs. Everett Chapman, for almost 30 years a practical nurse for the two doctors.

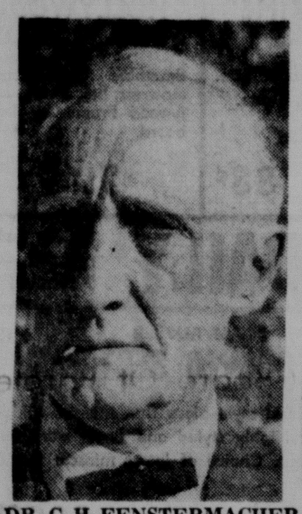
DR. CHARLES E. TAYLOR

Everybody Gave

"Everybody I contacted gave me money," she said, "and by the next day there was too much money for the bouquet. So we decided to go for a memorial."

The brick memorial, together with a water fountain, two park benches, a picnic table and two light poles, to illuminate the city park, was chosen because the townspeople felt the doctors would have wanted any memorial to be of service to the community, Mrs. Chapman said. The memorial only recently has been finished.

"There were 456 people who donated $502.25 to the fund," Mrs. Chapman said. Many donations came from former Sargent residents or their relatives, she added.



DR. C. H. FENSTERMACHER

From California

"Mrs. Blanche Sargent of Whittier, Calif., whose mother was with Dr. Fenstermacher when he made his first operation, sent us a contribution," Mrs. Chapman said.

During their years of service, the doctors performed every kind of operation "ranging from ingrown toenails to removing pieces of the skull," she said.

Dr. Fenstermacher, who died Feb. 6, 1956 at the age of 83, came to Sargent in 1900. Born in Michigan, he attended the University of Louisville medical school.

Dr. Taylor, who died in 1952, when he was 77, came to Sargent in 1911. He received his medical degree from the medical department of Cotner University in Lincoln.

"I helped Dr. Taylor deliver over 600 babies," Mrs. Chapman said. "I don't know how many I helped Dr. Fenstermacher deliver."

Serving on a memorial selection committee with Mrs. Chapman were Mrs. W. R. Kidder, George Semler, Ed Brass and Carl Reier, all of Sargent.

Workers Escape Injury As Oil Rig Burns At Sidney

Sidney, Neb. (AP) — Fire caused extensive damage at an oil rig 13 miles southwest of Sidney, but there were no injuries.

W. F. Rogers of the Rogers Drilling Company in Scottsbluff, flew to Sidney to assess the damage, but there was no immediate report.

Two workmen were on the rig when the fire started. They were using a pail of burning cottonseed hulls soaked with diesel fuel to warm the motor when the pail was knocked over causing the blaze.

The fire was brought under control in about an hour and extinguished in two hours.

The Real McCoy

Baltimore (AP) —The U.S.S. Constellation, America's first fighting ship now moored in Baltimore harbor, is historic and authentic to the Nth degree. Six warning signs around the deck, in presumably 19th Century spelling, proclaim: "Stand Away From Sideing."

There's An Easy Way To End It All

LINCOLN, Nebr.—Mrs. Rosalie Corder, 3542 Vine, says: "I had tried everything for dandruff and itchy scalp. Finally I got Baker's Hair Tonic, and it is the only thing I have been able to find that would really do the work. It sure knocks out dandruff and itchy scalp in a hurry." It's so easy and pleasant to use. Not messy or greasy like most so-called dandruff remedies. Use it any time, anywhere. No Federal excise tax on Baker's Hair Tonic, because it's a specific for dandruff. If dandruff and itchy scalp is your problem, Baker's is "the easy way to end it all." Satisfaction, or money back. Beatrice Council Sets Meet With City Planning Group

...Will Air Requests For Zone Changes

Beatrice, Neb.—The Beatrice City Council will meet with the city planning and zoning commission to hear the commission's reasons for recommending that some property be taken out of the city limits and that other property be taken in.

The council is especially interested in hearing why an area along North Sixth Street which includes the Store Kraft Manufacturing Co. plant was not considered by the commission.

C. W. Gale, representing the planning and zoning commission, told the council that the commission trys to go along with Beatrice Industrial Development Corporation plans in trying to attract new industry.

Set Outside

Gale stated that some towns including Kearney, Hastings and Columbus, have set outside the city limits potential industrial sites.

The large Store Kraft plant, which lies outside of the city limits, but according to councilman Les Warren, enjoys all of the city benefits, has been the subject of several attempts at bringing the area inside the city for tax purposes. Several other businesses are located in the area also.

Cunningham To Work On House Probe

Washington (AP) — A Congressional investigation begins Monday into federal personnel practices.

Rep. Glenn Cunningham (R-Neb) is a ranking member of the House subcommittee conducting the inquiry.

He says the hearings will concentrate on how federal agencies are carrying out the president's directive to cut manpower by 2% and how the Defense Department is utilizing scientists and engineers in the missile race.

The hearings will also look into what Cunningham says has been the constant upgrading of jobs. He says this practice has resulted in a great increase in the number of high-paying grades above the normal Civil Service clas sifications.

The new National Aeronautics and Space Agency, Cunningham says, will be asked to explain its employment expansion plans and other personnel problems.

Election On Sunday Bill Set For Debate In State Hi-Y Model Legislature

A bill to provide for a vote amending the state constitution to allow for elections on Sunday will be presented by the senior Hi-Y club at Lincoln Northeast High School when the 8th annual Nebraska Hi-Y Youth and Government model legislature opens Friday at the State Capitol.

The students from the Northeast club backing the bill are Alan Yates, John Kerrey, Tom Fitchett and Larry Peterson.

Yates is also one of the 4 candidates for governor of the two-day mock session.

His platform includes 1) rewriting Nebraska's constitution, because it is ineffective; 2) change the voting day to Sunday to get a larger vote; and 3) raise the salaries of state legislators and increase the size of the legislature.

The 11th grade Northeast club is sponsoring a bill to require biennial examinations for the re-issuance of driver's licenses for persons over 62 years of age. The students behind this bill are Don Copas, Jack Jensen, Norman McKinnon, Leon Dappen and Bob Anderson.

A bill to provide for a maximum speed limit on county roads, particularly hard surface gravel, not to exceed 55 m.p.h. from sunrise to sunset, is being sponsored by the 10th grade Northeast organization.

The 10th grade club is also backing a bill to provide for qualifications for the offices of state treasurer, state auditor of public accounts and secretary of state.

Traffic Signals

The Lincoln Southeast club will submit a bill to provide for placing a time interval between each circuit of electric traffic signals to allow pedestrian traffic to cross the street directly or diagonally.

Melvin Weisgenber and Ray Hutton of the Lincoln High School Hi-Y are sponsoring a bill to provide for a taking of movies of the unicameral legislature in regular session to be shown at civic gatherings or schools.

Other candidates for the governorship include Robert Hemenway of Hastings, Bennie Nelson of McCook and David Pavel of Omaha.

Officers already elected are Jack Butler of Omaha, clerk of the Legislature; Don Copas of Lincoln Northeast, Secretary of State; Archie Hall of North Platte, chaplain of the Legislature; and Bill Skeen of Hastings, sergeant-at-arms.

Committee chairmen of the model session will be Tom Fitchett of Lincoln Northeast; Roger Mattson of Scottsbluff, Barry McAnaly of Omaha and Ronald Ingram of Aurora.

W. J. Bryan Comparison Amuses Orator Brooks

Omaha (UPI)—An orator who pulled one of the biggest coups in this landslide Democratic year talks a different game from Nebraska's silver-tongued orator of the turn of the century.

Ralph G. Brooks, McCook College and High School administrator who slid into Nebraska's governorship by a hair, laughed today at any comparison to two-time presidential nominee William Jennings Bryan, another Nebraskan.

Brooks won the national oratory contest in his college days at Nebraska Wesleyan University in Lincoln, but he said his delivery is a far cry from that of Bryan. He said Bryan was a deliberate speaker with a booming voice while he depends upon his rapid-fire delivery.

Different Method

Bryan, on the one hand, could speak in a voice heard for blocks without amplification. Brooks, on the other hand, depends more on changes in pitch and rate rather than on force. He won a radio contest in his youth by delivering a speech 487 words per minute.

Brooks will be making his first try at political office when he is inaugurated in January—if he is inaugurated. Unofficial United Press International tabulations showed he ousted GOP incumbent Gov. Victor E. Anderson by 1,400 votes but the Republicans, rather than see their Nebraska stronghold broken after years of control, want a possible recount. The official canvass will be released Monday.

25 Years At McCook

Brooks has been a school administrator for 25 years, 12 of them at the helm of McCook's junior college and school system. He holds education and law degrees and is a member of the Nebraska Bar Assn.

Brooks feels very keenly that his clean campaign helped out, although he admitted the chief factor was the state tax issue. He echoed the demands of the head of the Legislature's tax committee for a revamping of the state's tax setup. He said state Sen. Terry Carpenter, in a legislative study of Nebraska taxes, brought the issue to the minds of the public.

He has promised first to enforce the laws and then to change them if enforcement does not solve the problem.

Tax Matters Liked

He feels very keenly about taxes in themselves. "Taxes are the lifeblood of civilization," he said, "and once you get them polluted, you end up with moral, physical and mental decay in office."

Brooks, a short, energetic man who acts much younger than his 60 years, said he did not have any idea a year ago he would win the governorship as the standard bearer for a resurrected Democratic party in Nebraska.

The state last picked a Democratic governor in 1938 and two years later the Democratic nominee was soundly whomped. Oddly enough, that Democrat was state Senator Carpenter, now a Republican, the man who provided Brooks with the tax revamping proposition that made a winning campaign issue.

Blimy! What, No Tuxedo? Red-Faced Dick Borrows

London (AP)—Vice President Richard Nixon wearing a borrowed tuxedo that didn't fit, entertained Queen Elizabeth II at Thanksgiving dinner in the American Embassy residence.

"I'll never let anybody else pack Richard's clothes again," his wife, Patricia, told a reporter.

Nixon looked uncomfortable as he went to the door of the palatial residence in Regent's Park to greet his top level guests. He shifted restlessly inside the jacket he borrowed from a friend.

As he welcomed the radiant queen he tugged at his overlong sleeves and at his low-hanging coat-tails. The jacket bagged in front.

The Queen seemed not to notice.

For 45 minutes before she arrived there was chaos in the residence—the home of Ambassador John Hay Whitney.

Nixon's valet, Dave Ball, reached for the vice president's tuxedo—and it wasn't there.

In the chaotic interlude all men of Nixon's entourage lined up to be measured. One would have to give the V-P his suit.

A pair of Scotland Yard detectives got in the line by mistake. Finally Jim Bassett of Los Angeles, a close newspaper friend of Nixon's was picked as a near equal in size.

East-West Try Again

. . . To Break Deadlock

Geneva (AP) — East and West declared Thursday they are determined to keep alive the deadlocked negotiations for a controlled nuclear test ban.

But as far as the West was concerned, Prime Minister Macmillan stated its case in London when he said there would be no compromise with the principle of effective international control.

He told the House of Commons the Russians are holding up progress in Geneva because they refuse to discuss the organization of the control system in detail.

The 3 powers met informally for a half hour to review the lines of their basic disagreement.

Billion Aid Hike Urged

Washington (AP) — President Eisenhower was reported to have decided it would be foolish economy to cut foreign aid spending while Russia continues active in this field.

Accordingly, informants said the President's foreign aid specialists have proposed an increase of about a billion dollars in next year's budget for economic, technical and military aid.

Despite a White House campaign to cut federal spending, the foreign aid budget tentatively proposed for the 12 months starting next July 1 would run to about $4,200,000,000 or $4,300,000,000, compared with the $3,300,000,000 approved by Congress this year.

Omahans Named Crusade Officers

J. A. Mactier, Omaha, was named Nebraska state chairman of the 1959 Crusade for Freedom campaign.

Mactier, president of Nebraska Consolidated Mills, has been active in civic projects.

Morris F. Miller, vice president of the Omaha National Bank, was named state Crusade treasurer.

Pakistan Prodded

Karachi (AP) — Pakistan's President-Gen. Mohammed Ayub Khan has ordered his governors of the east and west to put all available land under cultivation within 3 months. Pakistan once was self-sufficient in foods and he hopes to make it so again.

STUDEBAKER WORKERS GO BACK TODAY

South Bend, Ind. (AP)—Both management and employes of Studebaker-Packard Corp. had plenty to be thankful for Thursday—the end of the first full-scale strike in the firm's 106-year history.

Terms of the settlement of a 4-day walkout will not be made public until a United Auto workers ratification meeting Sunday, but both sides admitted they gave in a little on original demands.

The agreement came more than 18 hours after federal labor conciliator Chester Ralston—himself a former Studebaker worker—brought company and union officials together in a local hotel. They finally came out Thanksgiving morning, said they had compromised on the wage issue and ordered all 9,000 S-P employes to report Friday morning, although the contract will not be ratified until Sunday.

The union was demanding an hourly pay boost of 6 to 8 cents, retroactive to Sept. 1, to match other new auto industry contracts. The old wage scales were not disclosed.

Elvis Promoted

Grafenwohr, Germany (UPI)—Rock 'n roller Elvis Presley had Thanksgiving dinner with an extra trimming. He's been promoted to private first class.

He proudly sewed on his new stripe before enjoying his dinner in the field at this giant Army training area near the Iron curtain.

And the Army said that no one needs to sneer at Elvis.

"He really tries hard to be a good soldier and he deserves it," said his company commander, Capt. Edward E. Betts.

EVERYBODY'S MONEY

Little Value In Bygone Stock-Buying Mistakes

By Merryle S. Rukeyser

In the current mailbag, there is a plaintive wail from those readers who feel that they missed the boat by failing to buy stocks at last fall's bargain prices.

Rukeyser

Such negative thinking is unproductive of results. It resembles the viewpoint of the man who won't touch Manhattan real estate because he wasn't around when Peter Minuet bought the island from the Indians for $24.

If savers erred by staying on the sidelines, neglecting to include stocks in their investment kit, the mistake dates back longer than a few months or a year.

Ever since the new monetary policy was introduced a quarter of a century ago with the arbitrary mark-up in the price of gold from $20.67 an ounce to $35, this writer advised investors to increase the ratio of shares to bonds in their savings structure.

The practical approach is what to do here and now.

The solution depends in part on the financial circumstances, the age, and the objectives of the individual saver.

But it is wrong to assume that, if you get into the ballgame late, you can't play.

On the contrary, irrespective of historic comparisons, the important issue is what is the best vehicle for savings today.

Even when prices are high, the long-term investor can achieve a satisfactory cost basis over the years through the process known as dollar averaging. This consists of a self-imposed determination to invest precisely the same number of dollars periodically — monthly, quarterly, or annually — in exactly the same securities. Thus, automatically you buy fewer shares when prices are high, and more when quotations are down.

Experience shows that the stock market is not a one-way street, and even in a growing national economy it is subject to intermediate reactions during which prices tend to fall.

Those who want to have their cake and eat it too can compromise by buying convertible bonds. These give the promise of returning a fixed number of dollars, and in the event of future resumption of inflation the privilege of exchanging the bonds for shares at stipulated prices constitutes a hedge against depreciation of the dollar. Another way to reduce the bad effects of inflation is to retain some bonds, and as insurance against severe inflation to own long-term warrants, which are the right to acquire shares in the future at specified prices.

The inexperienced can get the benefit of expert investment management by putting their funds in the care of merged trust funds of banks or into shares of balanced fund investment companies or mutual funds.

QUESTION: What kind of investment would you recommend for a man 56 retired on account of disability, who lives on a pension? I have some uninvested cash in addition to $10,000 in savings and loan and U.S. Government bonds and $8,000 in a reliable investment company.

ANSWER: Your sources of income, with the exception of the investment fund, are all in sources which provide a fixed number of dollars. In the event of a rise in the cost of living, you will feel a pinch. I think it would be advantageous to put $15,000 in a balanced and well-managed investment fund.

QUESTION: How can I get information about obscure stock certificates?

ANSWER: If you consult a reliable bank or broker, they can check this for you. If there is no record of these companies, the next step would be to write to the Secretary of State in Delaware and Illinois, where the companies were incorporated, to determine whether the charters are still in effect.

QUESTION: Please let me know where I might apply for information on the "no load" funds.

ANSWER: Any reputable broker, who is a member of a Stock Exchange, can get this information. Arthur Wiesenberger & Company, 61 Broadway, New York City, is headquarters for this type of factual information about investment funds.

(Mr. Rukeyser will be pleased to receive inquiries from readers concerning their financial problems. Letters, with self-addressed, stamped envelopes should be sent in care of this newspaper. Questions of general interest will be answered in the column.)

Firm Asks American's Iowa Routes

Des Moines (AP)—Missouri Transit Co., Inc., has asked the Iowa Commerce Commission for authority to take over two Iowa routes of the strike-bound American Buslines.

The commission said the two bus companies filed a joint application for Missouri Transit of Macon to assume operations of American's Ottumwa to Albia and Albia to Des Moines routes under a lease arrangement.

The commission set Dec. 3 as the deadline for receiving written objections to granting the applications.

Since last July 1, drivers, maintenance workers and terminal employes have been on strike against American in a wage dispute.

Service Ordered

The commission has ordered American to restore service to the 116 Iowa communities affected or show cause why its operating rights should not be canceled.

A cause hearing was held in Des Moines Nov. 3 but the commission has announced no decision in the matter.

The commission said it has authority to revoke American's franchise and grant operating rights to other companies.

In an attempt to show good faith in trying to restore service, American put a bus, operated by supervisory personnel, on its Des Moines to Shenandoah route Oct. 27.

The run still is in operation, going to Shenandoah one day and returning to Des Moines the next.

At the Nov. 3 hearing, Merton Ephraim, general sales manager of American, said the company was losing money on the restored route.

Two Men Injured In Auto Accident

Glen G. Laschanzky, 41, of 1700 N suffered a cut jaw and Harley Hatcher, 36, of 2430 R, suffered a cut over his left eye and possible nose injuries when a car driven by Laschansky was in collision with a parked car on 27th between Clinton and Potter.

Both were treated and released from Bryan Memorial Hospital.

Ban Extended

Budapest (AP) — Hungary's domestic trade minister Janos Tausz has banned hard liquor sales in pastry shops, snack bars and cultural homes. It's part of the Communist drive against drunkenness.

DEATHS

CLEMENS—Funeral services for Clarice Rae Clemens, 17, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Clemens of 2950 Apple, will be at 10 a.m. Saturday at the East Lincoln Christian Church, the Rev. Mom, Dad, Tots Die In Home Blaze

North Little Rock, Ark. (AP) — A father and mother and 4 children lost their lives in a fire that roared through a small frame house here Thursday.

Another child, the only survivor of the family, was hospitalized with burns.

Mrs. Dorothy Sanders, 27, and her children, Sarah Jane, 8, Matt, 7, Robert, 5, and Eddie, 3, died in the fire. George Sanders, 30, was found lying on the ground outside the house, screaming with pain. He died several hours later.

Gave Alarm

Ten-year-old David Sanders gave the alarm. He ran to a neighbor's house, crying for someone to call a doctor. Neighbors had to hold the boy tightly to keep him from dashing back into the blazing house.

"I want to help mother and the other children," he sobbed as firemen arrived to battle the flames. He was taken to a Little Rock hospital where attendants said he was in good condition with minor burns.

Firemen found the body of Mrs. Sanders in one bedroom and the childrens' bodies in another.

Sanders was a taxi driver. Mrs. Sanders was a waitress who worked at night. She had been home only a few hours when the fire of unknown origin broke out.

W. J. Bryan Comparison Amuses Orator Brooks

Omaha (UPI)—An orator who pulled one of the biggest coups in this landslide Democratic year talks a different game from Nebraska's silver-tongued orator of the turn of the century.

Ralph G. Brooks, McCook College and High School administrator who slid into Nebraska's governorship by a hair, laughed today at any comparison to two-time presidential nominee William Jennings Bryan, another Nebraskan.

Brooks won the national oratory contest in his college days at Nebraska Wesleyan University in Lincoln, but he said his delivery is a far cry from that of Bryan. He said Bryan was a deliberate speaker with a booming voice while he depends upon his rapid-fire delivery.

Different Method

Bryan, on the one hand, could speak in a voice heard for blocks without amplification. Brooks, on the other hand, depends more on changes in pitch and rate rather than on force. He won a radio contest in his youth by delivering a speech 487 words per minute.

Brooks will be making his first try at political office when he is inaugurated in January—if he is inaugurated. Unofficial United Press International tabulations showed he ousted GOP incumbent Gov. Victor E. Anderson by 1,400 votes but the Republicans, rather than see their Nebraska stronghold broken after years of control, want a possible recount. The official canvass will be released Monday.

25 Years At McCook

Brooks has been a school administrator for 25 years, 12 of them at the helm of McCook's junior college and school system. He holds education and law degrees and is a member of the Nebraska Bar Assn.

Brooks feels very keenly that his clean campaign helped out, although he admitted the chief factor was the state tax issue. He echoed the demands of the head of the Legislature's tax committee for a revamping of the state's tax setup. He said state Sen. Terry Carpenter, in a legislative study of Nebraska taxes, brought the issue to the minds of the public.

He has promised first to enforce the laws and then to change them if enforcement does not solve the problem.

Tax Matters Liked

He feels very keenly about taxes in themselves. "Taxes are the lifeblood of civilization," he said, "and once you get them polluted, you end up with moral, physical and mental decay in office."

Brooks, a short, energetic man who acts much younger than his 60 years, said he did not have any idea a year ago he would win the governorship as the standard bearer for a resurrected Democratic party in Nebraska.

The state last picked a Democratic governor in 1938 and two years later the Democratic nominee was soundly whomped. Oddly enough, that Democrat was state Senator Carpenter, now a Republican, the man who provided Brooks with the tax revamping proposition that made a winning campaign issue.

"I don't care if you did dream your bed is radioactive! Get back in it!"

Blimy! What, No Tuxedo? Red-Faced Dick Borrows

London (AP)—Vice President Richard Nixon wearing a borrowed tuxedo that didn't fit, entertained Queen Elizabeth II at Thanksgiving dinner in the American Embassy residence.

"I'll never let anybody else pack Richard's clothes again," his wife, Patricia, told a reporter.

Nixon looked uncomfortable as he went to the door of the palatial residence in Regent's Park to greet his top level guests. He shifted restlessly inside the jacket he borrowed from a friend.

As he welcomed the radiant queen he tugged at his overlong sleeves and at his low-hanging coat-tails. The jacket bagged in front.

The Queen seemed not to notice.

For 45 minutes before she arrived there was chaos in the residence—the home of Ambassador John Hay Whitney.

Nixon's valet, Dave Ball, reached for the vice president's tuxedo—and it wasn't there.

In the chaotic interlude all men of Nixon's entourage lined up to be measured. One would have to give the V-P his suit.

A pair of Scotland Yard detectives got in the line by mistake. Finally Jim Bassett of Los Angeles, a close newspaper friend of Nixon's was picked as a near equal in size.

Billion Aid Hike Urged

Washington (AP) — President Eisenhower was reported to have decided it would be foolish economy to cut foreign aid spending while Russia continues active in this field.

Accordingly, informants said the President's foreign aid specialists have proposed an increase of about a billion dollars in next year's budget for economic, technical and military aid.

Despite a White House campaign to cut federal spending, the foreign aid budget tentatively proposed for the 12 months starting next July 1 would run to about $4,200,000,000 or $4,300,000,000, compared with the $3,300,000,000 approved by Congress this year.

Omahans Named Crusade Officers

J. A. Mactier, Omaha, was named Nebraska state chairman of the 1959 Crusade for Freedom campaign.

Mactier, president of Nebraska Consolidated Mills, has been active in civic projects.

Morris F. Miller, vice president of the Omaha National Bank, was named state Crusade treasurer.

Pakistan Prodded

Karachi (AP) — Pakistan's President-Gen. Mohammed Ayub Khan has ordered his governors of the east and west to put all available land under cultivation within 3 months. Pakistan once was self-sufficient in foods and he hopes to make it so again.

East-West Try Again

. . . To Break Deadlock

Geneva (AP) — East and West declared Thursday they are determined to keep alive the deadlocked negotiations for a controlled nuclear test ban.

But as far as the West was concerned, Prime Minister Macmillan stated its case in London when he said there would be no compromise with the principle of effective international control.

He told the House of Commons the Russians are holding up progress in Geneva because they refuse to discuss the organization of the control system in detail.

The 3 powers met informally for a half hour to review the lines of their basic disagreement.

STUDEBAKER WORKERS GO BACK TODAY

South Bend, Ind. (AP)—Both management and employes of Studebaker-Packard Corp. had plenty to be thankful for Thursday—the end of the first full-scale strike in the firm's 106-year history.

Terms of the settlement of a 4-day walkout will not be made public until a United Auto workers ratification meeting Sunday, but both sides admitted they gave in a little on original demands.

The agreement came more than 18 hours after federal labor conciliator Chester Ralston—himself a former Studebaker worker—brought company and union officials together in a local hotel. They finally came out Thanksgiving morning, said they had compromised on the wage issue and ordered all 9,000 S-P employes to report Friday morning, although the contract will not be ratified until Sunday.

The union was demanding an hourly pay boost of 6 to 8 cents, retroactive to Sept. 1, to match other new auto industry contracts. The old wage scales were not disclosed.

Elvis Promoted

Grafenwohr, Germany (UPI)—Rock 'n roller Elvis Presley had Thanksgiving dinner with an extra trimming. He's been promoted to private first class.

He proudly sewed on his new stripe before enjoying his dinner in the field at this giant Army training area near the Iron curtain.

And the Army said that no one needs to sneer at Elvis.

"He really tries hard to be a good soldier and he deserves it," said his company commander, Capt. Edward E. Betts.

EVERYBODY'S MONEY

Little Value In Bygone Stock-Buying Mistakes

By Merryle S. Rukeyser

In the current mailbag, there is a plaintive wail from those readers who feel that they missed the boat by failing to buy stocks at last fall's bargain prices.

Rukeyser

Such negative thinking is unproductive of results. It resembles the viewpoint of the man who won't touch Manhattan real estate because he wasn't around when Peter Minuet bought the island from the Indians for $24.

If savers erred by staying on the sidelines, neglecting to include stocks in their investment kit, the mistake dates back longer than a few months or a year.

Ever since the new monetary policy was introduced a quarter of a century ago with the arbitrary mark-up in the price of gold from $20.67 an ounce to $35, this writer advised investors to increase the ratio of shares to bonds in their savings structure.

The practical approach is what to do here and now.

The solution depends in part on the financial circumstances, the age, and the objectives of the individual saver.

But it is wrong to assume that, if you get into the ballgame late, you can't play.

On the contrary, irrespective of historic comparisons, the important issue is what is the best vehicle for savings today.

Even when prices are high, the long-term investor can achieve a satisfactory cost basis over the years through the process known as dollar averaging. This consists of a self-imposed determination to invest precisely the same number of dollars periodically — monthly, quarterly, or annually — in exactly the same securities. Thus, automatically you buy fewer shares when prices are high, and more when quotations are down.

Experience shows that the stock market is not a one-way street, and even in a growing national economy it is subject to intermediate reactions during which prices tend to fall.

Those who want to have their cake and eat it too can compromise by buying convertible bonds. These give the promise of returning a fixed number of dollars, and in the event of future resumption of inflation the privilege of exchanging the bonds for shares at stipulated prices constitutes a hedge against depreciation of the dollar. Another way to reduce the bad effects of inflation is to retain some bonds, and as insurance against severe inflation to own long-term warrants, which are the right to acquire shares in the future at specified prices.

The inexperienced can get the benefit of expert investment management by putting their funds in the care of merged trust funds of banks or into shares of balanced fund investment companies or mutual funds.

QUESTION: What kind of investment would you recommend for a man 56 retired on account of disability, who lives on a pension? I have some uninvested cash in addition to $10,000 in savings and loan and U.S. Government bonds and $8,000 in a reliable investment company.

ANSWER: Your sources of income, with the exception of the investment fund, are all in sources which provide a fixed number of dollars. In the event of a rise in the cost of living, you will feel a pinch. I think it would be advantageous to put $15,000 in a balanced and well-managed investment fund.

QUESTION: How can I get information about obscure stock certificates?

ANSWER: If you consult a reliable bank or broker, they can check this for you. If there is no record of these companies, the next step would be to write to the Secretary of State in Delaware and Illinois, where the companies were incorporated, to determine whether the charters are still in effect.

QUESTION: Please let me know where I might apply for information on the "no load" funds.

ANSWER: Any reputable broker, who is a member of a Stock Exchange, can get this information. Arthur Wiesenberger & Company, 61 Broadway, New York City, is headquarters for this type of factual information about investment funds.

(Mr. Rukeyser will be pleased to receive inquiries from readers concerning their financial problems. Letters, with self-addressed, stamped envelopes should be sent in care of this newspaper. Questions of general interest will be answered in the column.)

Firm Asks American's Iowa Routes

Des Moines (AP)—Missouri Transit Co., Inc., has asked the Iowa Commerce Commission for authority to take over two Iowa routes of the strike-bound American Buslines.

The commission said the two bus companies filed a joint application for Missouri Transit of Macon to assume operations of American's Ottumwa to Albia and Albia to Des Moines routes under a lease arrangement.

The commission set Dec. 3 as the deadline for receiving written objections to granting the applications.

Since last July 1, drivers, maintenance workers and terminal employes have been on strike against American in a wage dispute.

Service Ordered

The commission has ordered American to restore service to the 116 Iowa communities affected or show cause why its operating rights should not be canceled.

A cause hearing was held in Des Moines Nov. 3 but the commission has announced no decision in the matter.

The commission said it has authority to revoke American's franchise and grant operating rights to other companies.

In an attempt to show good faith in trying to restore service, American put a bus, operated by supervisory personnel, on its Des Moines to Shenandoah route Oct. 27.

The run still is in operation, going to Shenandoah one day and returning to Des Moines the next.

At the Nov. 3 hearing, Merton Ephraim, general sales manager of American, said the company was losing money on the restored route.

Mom, Dad, Tots Die In Home Blaze

North Little Rock, Ark. (AP) — A father and mother and 4 children lost their lives in a fire that roared through a small frame house here Thursday.

Another child, the only survivor of the family, was hospitalized with burns.

Mrs. Dorothy Sanders, 27, and her children, Sarah Jane, 8, Matt, 7, Robert, 5, and Eddie, 3, died in the fire. George Sanders, 30, was found lying on the ground outside the house, screaming with pain. He died several hours later.

Gave Alarm

Ten-year-old David Sanders gave the alarm. He ran to a neighbor's house, crying for someone to call a doctor. Neighbors had to hold the boy tightly to keep him from dashing back into the blazing house.

"I want to help mother and the other children," he sobbed as firemen arrived to battle the flames. He was taken to a Little Rock hospital where attendants said he was in good condition with minor burns.

Firemen found the body of Mrs. Sanders in one bedroom and the childrens' bodies in another.

Sanders was a taxi driver. Mrs. Sanders was a waitress who worked at night. She had been home only a few hours when the fire of unknown origin broke out.

Many Similarities, Many Differences In Europe

(Editor's Note: This is the last in a series of articles on a trip to Europe from which Ada McVicker and her husband, Star Wire Editor William J. McVicker, have returned.

By Ada McVicker

There is a group of men on the continent, all-knowing and all-powerfuls, who really run things, as do the sergeants in the American army. Each wears the emblem of the crossed keys on each lapel. In each country he knows all the answers and solves all the problems of the innocent tourist. The concierge! Without him there would be a mad snarl of luggage, mail, packages, cabs, routings, shopping plans, tickets, everything. He invariable remains unruffled, unworried, unhurried through any crisis. He's the same in any language — a safe harbor in the story sea of confusion.

Another honorable order unsnarls the overwhelming traffic in narrow streets designed for horsedrawn vehicles with patience and dispatch. He's dapper in Paris, athletic and impressive in long white gloves and green uniform in Brussels. In Switzerland he changes the style of his cap, puts on practical white sleeve guards and adds a wider smile. In Germany his cap and raincoat are cut on exact patterns of movie costumes for Nazi villains and his military air seems Prussian. In Edinburgh he has a warm burr in his speech and looks a good bit like his brother below the border. In London he's the bobby we've seen pictured so often—deliberate and capable. This one looks more dashing and military when he is one of the mounted police.

Many Differences

There was similiarity in these groups; but crossing borders brought great contrasts in other things—mony, accommodations, food, entertainment, the general air of the people. Crossing from Switzerland into Germany we immediately noticed larger farms, more humming industrial areas. Our first view of the great Rhine River was surprising. It was full of hundreds of freighters transporting huge tonnage along its swift course. Banks on either side rose high above — tree covered and studded with old castles and towns.

We stayed at battle scarred Wiesbaden, 33% of which was bombed out. Here the headquarters for U.S. Air Forces in Europe includes between 25,000 and 30,000 American residents. A great deal of reconstruction was still going on. We were told everyone who wants a job has work. There are many complications between East and West Germany. Our informant said, "We do not cause the trouble. The Russians are full of chicanery and tricks." However the first Russian tourists visited Wiesbaden this summer. We were courteously treated but found ourselves forever looking at people and wondering, "Were you a storm trooper?" or "Did you have anything to do with Dachau or Buchenwald?"

We had hardly crossed into Holland when the first windmill hit the landscape. Roofs had a steeper pitch, everything looked neater and we began to see men and boys wearing Dutch caps and wooden shoes. We had to burrow a bit under that fluff, blunt Dutch exterior to find the warmth and fun we knew was there somewhere.

See Zuider Zee

In Amsterdam, which has more miles of canals than Venice, we viewed the harbor, tenth in size in the world, which the Queen Mary enters easily. We saw the 14th century Weeping Tower where the Zuider Zee originated. Here Henry Hudson sailed on missions so important to history, and Dutch maidens tearfully waved their menfolk off on "parlous" journeys. This city has 450,000 of the county's 5 million bikes. It exports 80% of the diamonds America uses and a trip through a diamond plant was fascinating. Our most memorable experience was viewing the treasures of the National Art Gallery, including many rich Rembrandts, piloted by a guide who made the works of the old Dutch masters come to life for us.

A trip to Volemdam and Marken Island was fun though somewhat staged for the naive tourist. Stops at a cheese farm and a tea room where a dozen ancient music boxes entertained us were more satisfactory. There's no unemployment in Holland they say. Best idea we noted was the mail box on rear of each city bus. Collections were made speedily this way. Less than 1,000 of the original 14,000 windmills remain, electricity having outmoded them.

Scots 'Sweetest'

After a somewhat rough channel crossing we were soon steaming off through the English countryside toward our primary goal — bonnie Scotland. And bonnie it was when we found it Here dwelt the sweetest people imaginable — warm, cordial, jolly. They called us "dear" on sight. They delighted in pointing out the view of Firth of Forth from our window. Hospiality was almost overwhelming.

First off we visited Edinburgh castle which overlooks the city from a high bluff as any proper castle invariably does. Some of it goes back to the 6th century. We stood in St. Margaret's chapel and meditated on this early Queen who probably was the first person to preach Christianity to her people. We saw the ancient regalia and the oldest crown of Scotland, first worn by "Robert the Bruce." The castle was once the home of Mary Queen of Scots. A 1 o'clock gun is still fired daily from these heights. An iron basket for a warning fire beacon still stands on the outer wall.

Beautiful Memorial

The old barracks were made into a memorial chapel and it contains regimental banners and insignia and names of all Scots who fell in War I. We found it one of the most beautiful memorials we have ever seen. Some viewers emerged wiping their eyes. One inscription struck us particularly, "Whether their fame centuries long did ring cared they not over much. But cared greatly to serve God and the King."

Holyrood House, the palace where Queen Elizabeth spends at least 10 days every year, was also much enjoyed. It is full of history — much of it tragic — but now enjoys happier days when 1,000 guests gather for the queen's garden parties and another 10,000 uninvited guests look on from a convenient hill just across the road.

'Bonnie Banks, Braes'

A day's journey to the Trossachs showed us the meaning of "yon bonnie banks and yon bonnie braes" as we had tea and scones by Loch Lomond. The "hills" were what we would call "mountains" and the "lochs" enormous bodies of clear blue water. Woods with the undergrowth of ferns turning golden brown and the trees brooding over the hills in autumn shades still touched with deep green, satisfied the eye. We saw many spots described by Scott in "The Lady of the Lake." As twilight fell we half expected the stag to emerge from the trees "to drink his fill."

The Scots are loyal subjects of Queen Elizabeth. But when the papers said she mentioned her German ancestry in welcoming President Heuss, our elevator man (late of the Gordon Highland Regiment) sniffed, "Hmmm, she had to go back a bit for that!" He was one of a handful left of his proud outfit as War I ended.

We observed no Scots who were penny pinchers. They never waited about for a tip. Their prices were reasonable and values sound and sure. They ate well, dressed well, had a lot of fun — and above all, they were never in a hurry!

'Who's He?'

Los Angeles (AP)—When touring representatives of the Russian motion picture industry were asked if they would like to visit Disneyland, they asked, "what's that?"

Told it was a fabulous amusement park created by the one and only Walt Disney, they responded, "who's he?"

Despite this unpromising start, the 23 visitors were bundled aboard a bus and taken to Disneyland, some 20 miles away. They loved it.
